AHMEDNAGAR DISTRICT

Headquarters: Ahmednagar.

Talukas: Nagar, Rahuri, Newasa, Shrirampur, Sangamner, Akola, Kopergaon, Sheogaon, Pathardi, Jamkhed, Shrigonda, Parner, Karjat.

Ahmednagar, a centrally situated District in the Marathi speaking area of the Deccan, lies between North Lat. 18°20′ and 20° and East Long. 73°43′ and 75°41′. It is bounded on the north and north-west by Nasik District, on the north-east by the river Godavari and Aurangabad District, on the south-east and south-west by Bhir, Sholapur and Poona Districts. The principal geographical feature is the chain of Sahyadri Hills and the river Godavari and her two major tributaries Mula and Prawara both rising from the Western Ghats. Despite the fertility of its soil the District is liable to famine owing to uncertain and scanty rainfall. A large part of the District is irrigated by the confluence of the rivers Godavari and Pravara which has encouraged sugar-cane plantation on a wide scale.

The area of the District is 6,591 sq. miles. Population: 1,771,066 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 903,993; females 867,073). The language spoken is Marathi.

The staple food grains are jawar and bajra. Wheat and gram are grown in the vicinity of the rivers and rice in the westernmost Akole Taluka including other irrigated areas. Vari and ragi are cultivated in soils which are suited to coarser grain. The pulses are tur, mug, math and kulith. Among the cash crops may be mentioned cotton, hemp, safflower, sesamum, linseed, sugarcane, tobacco, kardi, pan, groundnut and potatoes. Sweet lime orchards are also grown.

The chief historical places of interest to visitors are the Ahmednagar Fort and the residential palaces of the Shindyas and the Peshawas at Jamgaon and Kopergaon respectively. The tombs of Mughal Emperor Aurangzeb are situated on the outskirts of Ahmednagar town. The temple of Dnyaneshwar, the saint poet of Maharashtra, is situated at Newase on the banks of river Pravara. Here Dnyaneshwar wrote his famous commentary on Gita. Excavations undertaken in the vicinity of this town have yielded valuable finds of prehistoric import.

Among industries sugar is now one of the most important. There are eleven sugar factories in the District. Of these six are co-operative societies of sugarcane cultivators, which conduct sugar factories. Gur making, handloom weaving, iron foundries and bidi making are the other important industries. Popular Ayurvedic medicines and a number of allopathic drugs are manufactured on a large scale by a pharmaceutical concern at Ahmednagar.

There are ten irrigation tanks in the District. The Ghod Weir and Canals Project, which is nearing completion, has extended irrigation facilities to about 55,000 acres of dry land in the usually famine affected Shrigonde and Karjat talukas of the district.

The Ahmednagar Borough Municipality has constructed a cosmopolitan swimming pool at a cost of Rs. 90,000 and open to all communities of both sexes.

BHANDARA DISTRICT

Headquarters : Bhandara.

Tahsils : Bhandara, Gondia, Sakoli.

The District lies roughly between North Latitude 20° 31′ and 21° 44′ and East Longitude 79° 29′ and 80° 43′. It is bounded on the north by Balaghat District, on the east by the former States of Khairagarh and Nandgaon, on the south by Chanda District, and on the west by Nagpur District. The area of the District is 3,582 sq.miles. Population : 1,248,519 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 624,998 ; females 623,521). The chief language is Marathi but Hindi is also spoken by a considerable section of the population.

The principal food crops are rice, jawar, wheat, gram, linseed and pulses. Ginger, oranges and plantains are also grown and sent to Nagpur.

Mineral deposits include those of manganese, iron and a little gold.

The chief industries are weaving, making of brass vessels and stone jars, of soft grass matting for bedding, and of bamboo baskets.

BHIR DISTRICT

Headquarters : Bhir.

Talukas and Mahals : Mominabad, Manjlegaon, Gevrai, Bhir, Ashti, Patoda (Mahal), Kaij.

Area : 4,261 sq. miles. Population: 1,001,105 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 509,008 ; females 492,097).

There are forts and buildings at Bhir which are of archaeological interest. Amba has a temple dedicated to Jogai. The temple of Baijnath at Parli is a celebrated place of Hindu pilgrimage.

The soil is mostly black cotton. On this are grown cotton, white jawar, gram, gingelly and wheat, while on the masab and kharab soils are grown white bajra, yellow jawar, pulses and oilseeds. Cotton and linseed are produced extensively in the District. The staple food crops are jawar and bajra. Wheat and rice are next in importance.

The District has no minerals of economic value. Granite, basalt and limestone which are found everywhere are used for building.

BULDANA DISTRICT

Headquarters : Buldana.

Tahsils : Chikhali, Mehker, Malkapur, Khamgaon, Jalgaon.

This Berar District lies roughly between North Latitude 19° 45′ and 21° 17′ and East Longitude 76° 20′ and 77° 10′. The area of the District is 3,751 sq. miles. Population : 1,062,391 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 543,228 ; females 519,163). The language spoken is Marathi.

Jawar is the chief food crop, though wheat is also grown. The most profitable cash crop is cotton with oilseeds coming next.

The principal industry is the preparation of cotton for the market. Exports consist of raw cotton, oilseeds, grain and pulses, and the imports include grain and pulses, coal and coke, sugar and salt.

CHANDA DISTRICT

Headquarters : Chanda.

Tahsils : Chanda, Warora, Brahmapuri, Gardchiroli, Sironcha, Rajura.

The District lies roughly between North Latitude 18° 42′ and 20° 45′ and East Longitude 78° 48′ and 80° 45′. The area of the District is 9,200 sq. miles. Population : 1,238,701 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 624,007 ; females 614,694). The languages spoken are Marathi, Hindi, Telugu and Gondi.

Except in the open country on the west and north, the whole District is thickly wooded.

The forest vegetation in the District is of a mixed character. Teak is fairly general but is not anywhere very plentiful. The principal trees are Saj, Bijasal, Rohan, Kaddan, Haldu, Semal, Mahua, Dhaura, Tendu, Garari and Palas. Salai is very abundant on the dry hills and plateau. Other trees met with are Satin-wood, Reunjha, Bahera and Siris. Near villages tamarinds and mangoes abound, and in the south of the District groves of the palmyra palm occur. The forests are well distributed, and very few villages are more than three miles from some part of them.

The annual rainfall averages about 51 inches at Chanda Town and 46 at Warora. Failure of rainfall is very frequent.

Rice which is the most important crop is grown in the centre and east of the District. Jawar is the chief crop in Sironcha and the Warora Tahsils, while linseed, gram and wheat are grown principally in the black-soil lands of the Chanda Haveli and those adjoining the Wardha river. Cotton is also an important cash crop.

Coal-mines occur and there are match factories, ceramic industries and paper manufacture.

DHULIA DISTRICT

Headquarters :—Dhulia.

Talukas and Mahals :—Shirpur, Shahada, Taloda, Sindkheda, Nandurbar, Nawapur, Dhulia, Sakri, Akrani, Akal-kuva.

Area : 5,072 ; Population : 1,350,143 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 687,023 ; females 663,120).

Dhulia District lies roughly between 20° 38′ and 22° North Latitude and 73° 35′ and 75° 17′ East Longitude. It is bounded on the north by Khargone District in Madhya Pradesh, on the east by Jalgaon District, on the south by Nasik District and on the west by Surat District.

Thirty-eight villages each from the Nawapur and Nandurbar talukas of Dhulia District were transferred to Songadh taluka of Surat District and 80 villages from Akkalkuwa and Taloda talukas of Dhulia district were transferred to Sagbara taluka in Broach District. The languages spoken are Marathi, Gujarati and Bhil.

The main crops of this District are cotton, wheat, bajra, jawar and groundnut. Sugar-cane and chillies form the main irrigated crops. Lately many more sugar-cane crushing factories and gur manufacturing factories have been started in the District. There are two agricultural research stations—one for Cereal research and another for Cotton research at Shahada and Dhulia respectively.

There are two types of irrigation in this District : (1) Well irrigation and (2) Bandhara irrigation. The rivers used for irrigation are chiefly the Panjara, Kan, Gurai and Gomi, which are bunded at a number of places. Each bund irrigates about 100 to 200 acres. The total area under Bandhara is about 4,000 acres. The main crops grown on these Bandharas are sugar-cane, wheat and paddy, in this rotation. This system is known as Fad System.

There are two educational institutions in the Bhil area—Bhil Sudharna Committee and Bhil Seva Mandal. The Government has also opened a Sarvodaya centre at Khandbara for the uplift of the Bhil community.

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

The King Edward VII Technical School at Dhulia gives technical education to students. The Institute of Engineering Technology run by the Dhulia Education Society, Dhulia, started coaching students for Diploma in Civil Engineering, since June 1954. It has accommodation for about 125 students every year. There is also a Government Agricultural Institute, where Gram Sewaks are trained.

The Bhil Seva Mandal and the Bhil Sudhar Samittee work for the social and educational uplift of the Bhil community.

Two more institutions are the Gandhi Tatwadnyan Mandir, teaching Gandhian philosophy, and the Sanskrit Patashala teaching Sanskrit. There is a Historical Research Institute called Rajwade Sanshodhan Mandal where important manuscripts and historical articles and records are available for research and study. In Wak-Dewata Mandir, all works of Sant Ramdas and literature pertaining to him are carefully preserved and further studies are being pursued.

There is the century old Garud library along with Prani Raksha Grantha Sangrahalaya.

Dhulia is the Divisional Headquarters of the Maharashtra Transport Corporation, of the Khandesh Division. A direct bus service runs to Indore in Madhya Pradesh, also to Surat in Gujarat and one to Poona and Aurangabad. There is also a big repair workshop.

DHULIA EDUCATION SOCIETY.—The Society owns three high schools ; (1) The J. R. City High School, (2) The New City High School and (3) The Madhyamik Vidyalaya, Deopur—Dhulia. The Society started an Institute of Commerce in 1955, an Institute for Secondary Teachers' Certificate Course in 1957.

INDUSTRIES

Dhulia is the biggest cotton centre in the Dhulia District and has a well regulated Cotton Market. There is also another regulated Cotton Market at Dondaiche in the Sindkheda Taluka on the Tapti Valley Section of the Western Railway.

There are Spinning and Weaving Factories.

The number of cotton ginning and cotton pressing factories is 47.

Dhulia has also been lately developing into a groundnut oil industry centre. There are about 42 oil mills, including 14 at Dhulia, which together produce about 2,000 tons of groundnut cake. One of these mills uses the latest type of expeller machinery. There are also saw mills.

The newly built hill station of Toranmal, about 90 miles away from Dhulia in Shahada Taluka, is situated on the Satpura range plateau at an altitude of 4,200 feet by the side of a spacious lake of great depth and having a crystal tasty water. The climate is very salubrious. Transport arrangements and accommodation have been provided.

The Rotary Club has opened its branch at Dhulia under the Presidentship of Dr. Kirtane.

The Agricultural College founded by the State Govt. is progressing well.

There is the "Dhulia District Board of Cricket", which is affiliated to the Maharashtra Cricket Association, of which Shri H. A. Dabir is the secretary.

JALGAON DISTRICT

Headquarters : Jalgaon.

Talukas : Chalisgaon, Amalner, Parola, Chopda, Erandol, Pachora, Jamner, Jalgaon, Yaval, Raver, Bhusawal.

Mahals : Edlabad, Bhadgaon.

Jalgaon District, with Jalgaon as capital, is one of the northernmost Districts in Maharashtra.

The area of the District is 4,575 sq. miles. Population: 1,765,461 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 904,426; females 861,035). The main population of the District is composed of Levas and Marathas, with a good percentage of Bhils, Vanjaris and other hill tribes. Their language is a peculiar mixture of Gujarati, Marathi and Hindi and is called Ahirani. The District has very rich black soil, specially in the trans-Tapti Talukas, and is among the Districts which yield the highest revenue.

AGRICULTURE

The most important crops are cotton, groundnuts, jawar, bajri, gram, millet, linseed and sesamum. The most important garden crops are chillies, corriander, melons, watermelons, betel leaf, bananas, mosambis, santra and sugarcane. North India is a lucrative export market for bananas for the sale of which eleven Co-operative Fruit Sale Societies have been established in the District. The bananas are now marketed by the State Co-operative Marketing Board in Delhi.

Cotton and groundnut are even more important. The cotton is classed as 197-3, better known as Vir Nar, which new variety replaced the old variety Jarila in 1952. It is a cross breed of Verrum and N. R. Cotton. Vir Nar is finer than Broach and fetches a higher price. It gives 4 per cent more ginning. This cotton is now compulsorily sown in districts of Jalgaon, Dhulia and Nasik, and 93 villages in Aurangabad District. Government have a special agricultural farm at Jalgaon for research in cotton breeding for improving the staple and ginning percentage. Higher rates for cotton and reduced acreage under groundnut have led to an increase in acreage under cotton.

There is a large export trade in groundnut oil and hydrogenated oil or vanaspati.

Jalgaon is the biggest town and District headquarters, a great trade centre, and also an educational centre. The town is 37 miles from Ajanta Caves and a regular State Transport bus traffic exists from Jalgaon to Ajanta. Govt. of India has opened a Tourist Office at Jalgaon Railway Station. Accommodation is also available at Traveller's Bungalow. Amalner is the biggest cotton centre in the District.

The rainfall (mean annual is 28·27 inches) is usually both general and regular, which fact in itself discourages irrigation.

INDUSTRIES

The main industry is based on agriculture. There are about 40 oil mills in the District, besides several bullock driven presses. One vegetable factory employs 350 workers. There is a silk mill in the District. There is also a factory, which manufactures crackers and fireworks, employing 100 workers during season.

There are in the whole District four spinning and weaving factories, about 100 cotton ginning and pressing works, about ten dyeing factories, three big railway workshops (at Bhusawal) all employing more than 26,000 people.

KOLABA DISTRICT

Headquarters : Alibag.

Talukas and Mahals : Alibag, Pen, Panvel, Karjat, Roha, Mangaon, Mahad, Khalapur, Uran, Poladpur, Murud, Shrivardhan, Mhasala and Sudhagad.

Kolaba District in the Konkan area of Maharashtra lies between North Latitude 17°52′ and 19°3′ and East Longitude 73°7′ and 73°42′.

The total area of the District is 2,723 sq. miles. Population: 1,058,892 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 515,367; females 543,525).

Notable places in the District are Raigarh near Mahad, once the capital of the great Shivaji and Kanakeshwara near Alibag, which is fast growing into a holiday resort as it is a hill 1,100 feet above sea-level and gives a complete view of Bombay. Matheran is another well-known hill station. Elephanta near Bombay is also in this District. Alibag has a magnetic observatory which is devoted to research in magnetic and electric currents which circulate in the interior of the earth.

The historical sea-fort Kolaba, at Alibag, which was the naval capital of Shivaji, has recently been taken over by the Archæological Department of the Government of India. The Hingulja hill near Revdanda, about nine miles from Alibag, is growing into a holiday resort.

AGRICULTURE, POWER

On the flat lands of the District rice is grown, and the sea-front is fringed by a belt of coconut and arecanut palms. There is large-scale plantation of mango grafts and the produce is exported to Bombay. Lorry loads of melons from Panvel are also sent to Bombay. The teak forests are very valuable and there is a considerable fishing industry. Salt is also produced in large quantities in Pen, Panvel talukas and Uran petas. Nachni, Vari, Udid and Val are varieties of crops which agriculturists produce at their second crop. Tondlies are produced in large quantities and are taken to Bombay.

The District has three Power Houses: The Tata Power Co.'s Power House at Bhira (Patuns), the Tata Hydro-Electric Power Supply Co.'s at Khopoli and the Andhra Valley Power Supply Co.'s at Bhivpuri.

Uran and Pen are big salt-producing centres. Panvel contains a large ayurvedic pharmacy, the Shri Dhootapapeshwar Panvel Ltd.; Mora in Uran Mahal has a big tile factory which manufactures tiles worth two lakhs a year.

MATHERAN (HILL STATION)

Matheran is a hill station and sanitarium, about three hours' journey from Bombay and Poona. Visitors are conveyed up the hill from Neral (Central Rly.) by the Matheran Steam Tramway and Rail Motors. The town is about 2,500 feet above sea-level, and is a favourite hot weather resort. The maximum and minimum temperatures range between 65 and 80 ordinarily and the average rainfall is 200 inches. The place has an agreeable climate.

KOLHAPUR DISTRICT

Headquarters : Kolhapur.

Talukas and Mahals : Karwir, Panhala, Shahuwadi, Radhanagari, Bhudargad, Hatkanangle, Gadhinglaj, Kagal, Shirol, Bavada, Ajra, Chandgad.

The undulating country, in which the District is situated, is about 2,000 feet above sea-level in proximity to the eastern slope of the Sahyadris which renders the greater part of the District free from famine. The six large rivers of the District, namely, the Krishna, the Panchaganga, the Warna, the Dudhaganga, the Vedganga and the Hiranyakeshi, with their several tributaries flow through and drain the District, facilitating extensive irrigation of lands in several parts of the District. The hills are the main feature of the District. They include the main range of the Sahyadris running north to south for about 100 miles and form the western boundary of the District. They contain some of the finest and most abundant supplies of bauxite in the world situated at places, where an unlimited and very profitable exploitation with the aid of cheap hydro-electric power is a practical proposition.

The total area of the District is 3,205 square miles. Population: 1,598,400 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 813,372; females 785,028). The language spoken is mostly Marathi, though Kannada is also spoken in a few parts. Kolhapur city, the headquarters, is a great trading centre for jaggery.

The chief agricultural products are jawar, rice, cotton, nagli, bajra, wheat, tobacco, sugarcane and ground-nut.

Besides 3 cotton mills, there are ginning and pressing factories. There are also ginning and powdering mills, groundnut crushing and oil mills, a sugar mill, cinema-film producing companies and soap factories and repair workshops.

NAGPUR DISTRICT

Headquarters : Nagpur.

Talukas : Nagpur, Ramtek, Katol, Saoner, Umrer.

The area of the District is 3,842 sq. miles and the population 1,511,187 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 783,736; females 727,451). The language spoken is Marathi.

The richest part of the District is the western half of the Katol Tehsil. It possesses a soil profusely fertile and teems with the richest garden cultivation. From Pilkapar Hills in the Katol Tehsil the plains extend to the eastern border. Its surface is scarcely ever level, but it is closely cultivated, abounds in mango groves and trees of all sorts, and towards the east is studded with small tanks which form a feature of the landscape. The elevation of the plain country is from 900 to 1,000 feet above sea-level.

The forests are mainly situated in a large block on the Satpura Hills to the north-east, while isolated patches are dotted on the hills, extending along the south-western border. The forest growth varies with the nature of the soil, teak on good well-drained slopes, salai on the steep hillsides and ridges, and satinwood on the sandy levels. In the open country mango, tamarind and bastard date-palms are common.

The annual rainfall averages about 47·5 inches.

Cotton and jawar are the chief produce of the District which is also famous for its oranges. During the cold weather wagonloads of oranges are exported daily to Bombay and other parts of India.

The District is not badly off in the matter of mineral deposits. There are some manganese mines and limestone quarries in the District and coal-mines at Kamptee and Chanda.

There are five textile mills in Nagpur City, a number of oil mills, a pottery concern, glass works, saw mills, a rubber factory, a thriving frame making industry, a large fruit canning industry and a large number of handloom factories. Nagpur saris are in great demand in all parts of the country.

POONA DISTRICT

Headquarters : Poona.

Talukas or Mahals : Ambegaon, Baramati (Bhimtadi), Dhond, Haveli, Indapur, Junnar Khed, Mawal, Mulshi, Poona City, Purandhar, Sirur, Bhor, Velhe.

The population according to 1961 census is 2,465,080 and the area of the District is 6,032 sq. miles. Number of males : 1,269,176 ; females 1,195,904). The language spoken is Marathi.

The city proper extends along the Mutha river for about 1¾ miles inland ; its length is about 2 miles from east to west and its breadth about 1¼ miles. the total area being about 2¾ square miles.

The rainfall varies considerably in different parts of the District. In the western parts it is heavy and regular, in the central belt moderate, and in the east very irregular. The main crops are paddy and jawar. But the District is a deficit area in the matter of food grain. One of the products of which the District has an exportable surplus is jaggery produced from sugarcane.

The city of Poona lies at the confluence of two small rivers, the Mutha and the Mula, on the Western margin of the Deccan plateau at a height of about 1,800 ft. above sea-level. Only 30 miles separate the city from the main range of the Western Ghats and 119 miles from the State capital, Bombay.

The importance of Poona from the military point of view is growing. It is the headquarters of the Southern Command and also of the Poona Sub-Area. The National Defence Academy is located in Khadakvasla. The School of Military Engineering and The Armed Forces Medical College are also in Poona. A wing of the Indian Air Force is also posted to Poona. Some of the other military establishments around Poona are : the Ordnance Depot and the Arsenal at Kirkee and the Vehicles Depot at Dehu Road. The Indian Navy Mechanical Training establishment, I.N.S. "Shivaji". is located at Lonavla. 40 miles from Poona and the newly established Naval Engineering College, first of its kind in India, in the precincts of I.N.S. "Shivaji".

Yet other institutions are the Institute of Armament Studies and the Artificial Limbs Centre, the only one of its kind not only in India but also in South & West Asia and the fourth largest in the world. A gliding centre is also located near Poona.

Other important institutions of All-India character located in Poona are given below :

Meteorological Office : The technical headquarters of the India Meteorological Department, the Meteorological Office in Poona, is located on the Ganeskhind Road at Shivajinagar, in a magnificent building with a conspicuous clock tower.

Central Water and Power Research Station ; National Chemical Laboratory ; Overseas Communications' Beam Wireless Station at Dighi ; Headquarters of the Servants of India Society ; Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute ; Penicillin Factory, Pimpri ; Virus Research Centre, the only of its kind in India.

Poona, which was till recently predominantly an educational centre, is fast developing as an industrial area as well. Besides the two industrial estates at Hadapsar and Pimpri, the whole belt along the Bombay-Poona Road from Kirkee, Dapodi, Pimpri, Chinchwad upto Lonavla is fast attracting industries of various types.

The Poona Municipal corporation is setting up a third industrial estate near Golibar Maidan exclusively for small industries. There are three sugar factories two of them being run on cooperative basis and the third privately owned. One more sugar factory in the co-operative sector is coming in the district near Nira.

The district also boasts of important places of historical and archaeological interests. Shivneri fort, birth place of the great Maratha Hero, Chhatrapati Shivaji, the famous Karla caves which constitute a fine example of Buddhist architecture of 1st Century B.C. ; Samadhis of Kasturba Gandhi and Mahadevbhai Desai are located in the district.

LONAVLA

This hill station is situated at the top of the Bhore Ghat incline about 2,030 feet above sea-level.

Among the lakes may be mentioned the 'Tata Sons Hydro-Electric Works Lake' at Valvan (walking distance and drive over a built road), their smaller lake called Lonavla Lake near the Raiwoods and situated on the cement concrete road leading to I.N.S. "Shivaji". About 2½ miles north of the Railway Station is situated the Lonavla Municipal Borough's Tungarli Lake which is the main source of water supply to Lonavla and Khandala. Fishing is allowed both at the Bhushi and the Valvan lakes, the latter being the more suited for the purpose.

There is a Municipal rest-house and Dharmashalla on the Lonavla-Bhangarwadi Road. The Raiwoods are suitable for picnics and are also a camping ground for Government Officers during the hot season.

About 3½ miles from the Railway is situated the "Tiger's Leap," a promontory which commands a picturesque view of the valley below. The famous Karla Caves are situated on a hill about five miles from Lonavla, and are reached by a built road up to the foot of the hill, and visitors either walk up or are carried up by means of chairs. From the Railway Station of Malawali, nearly three miles from Lonavla, visitors can proceed to view the Lohgadh Fort (now partially demolished) on the top of a hill.

The Govt. of Maharashtra has started a holiday camp at Karla at a distance of about 1½ miles from Malawali Railway Station. The State Transport runs a passenger bus starting from Lonavla Railway Station to the holiday camp. The Lonavla Municipal Borough has constructed a swimming pool on the Bombay-Poona road near old Khandala level crossing gate, and two gardens 'Shivaji Park' at Lonavla and 'Rajmachi Rock Garden' at Khandala.

CC-0. Agamnigam Digital Presevation Foundation, Chandigarh

The following are some of the Forts and places of interest:—

Fort of Lohgadh, Fort of Visapur, Fort of Rajmachi which stands on the top of the Sahyadri Range and commands a grand view of Matheran, Konkan and even part of Bombay, Duke's Nose, Tungarli Municipal Lake.

The temperature varies from 65 in the cold weather to 85 in the hottest month. The rainfall varies from 160 to 250.

One of the best naval establishments and training schools I.N.S. "Shivaji" is about four miles from Lonavla Station and visitors may contact the Commanding Officer on phone for permit to visit.

A bathing place known as "Kuna Point" is situated on the road leading to Kuna mission. "Dr. Gajanan Mahimtura Swimming Pool" near old Khandala level crossing is open to the public. The thick Rye-Woods Forest also is being developed by the State Govt. Rye-Woods is just near "Shivaji Park".

KHANDALA

Khandala, a health resort, 78 miles from Bombay by rail and 71 by road lies in Mawal Taluka. It is situated at the top of the Bhor Ghat at an elevation of about 2,000 feet above sea-level, and has an agreeable and bracing climate all through the year.

Among places worth a visit in and around the town are Tata Electric Supply Company's reservoir called Forbay Dam, Byramjee's Point, the Duke's Nose, Tiger's Leap, all of which provide magnificent views of the surrounding country. About nine miles from Khandala are the Karla caves considered to be the oldest specimen of Buddhist caves in India. In Walwan lake which is about four miles from Khandala good mahashir fishing is available. At Khandala "Rajmachi Park" is one of the most beautiful spots. The Municipality has made arrangements of one Cafetaria there and during hot seasonal months, there is daily bus service to Rajmachi Point.

LITERARY, SCIENTIFIC AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS

BHANDARKAR ORIENTAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE
Poona 4.

The Institute was inaugurated on the 6th of July 1917, the 80th birthday of late Dr. Sir R. G. Bhandarkar. Its objects are to publish critical editions of texts and original works bearing on Oriental antiquities, to provide an up-to-date Oriental library, to train students in the methods of research and to act as an information bureau on all points connected with Oriental studies. The valuable library of Dr. Sir R. G. Bhandarkar, which he had bequeathed to the institute, is now located in the central hall of the Institute. Since April 1918 the Government of Bombay* have transferred to the custody of the Institute the unique collection of nearly 20,000 manuscripts together with a maintenance grant of Rs. 3,000 a year. Manuscripts from this collection are lent out to scholars in all parts of the world. Government have likewise entrusted to the Institute a grant of Rs. 18,000 a year for the publication of the B.S.S. and the Government Oriental Series (the latter including, amongst others, Dr. Kane's History of Dharmashastra in five Volumes). The Institute has also started a series called the Bhandarkar Oriental Series in which several works have been already published and others are in progress. The Institute has undertaken to edit Mahabharata critically at the initiation of the late Raja of Aundh who donated a grant of Rs. one lakh for that purpose. The Institute has also received so far about Rs. 33,615 from the trustees of the Mahabharata publication fund, London, earmarked for the publication of the Virata, Udyoga and Karna parvans. More than three-fourth of the work on the critical edition has been completed. On 25th March 1944, the Institute inaugurated its Mahabharata printing department with a view to expediting the printing of the Mahabharata edition. The institute issues a journal called Annals of the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute published normally four times a year. It also held under its auspices the first oriental conference on the 5th, 6th and 7th of November 1919 under the patronage of Sir George Lloyd and the presidency of Sir R. G. Bhandarkar.

RATNAGIRI DISTRICT

Headquarters: Ratnagiri.

Talukas: Dapoli, Mandangad, Khed, Chiplun, Guhagar, Sangameshwar, Ratnagiri, Rajapur, Devgad, Sawantwadi, Malwan.

Petas: Lanja, Vengurla, Kankavli, Kudal.

The length of the District is about 230 miles, and the breadth between 30 and 40. The District may be described generally as rocky and rugged. Near the coast the land consists of a bare elevated plateau, intersected by numerous creeks and navigable rivers flowing between steep hills. These rivers have along their banks the chief sea-ports and almost all the fertile land of the District. The banks of the rivers produce fine crops of rice in the rains, and of pulse in the cold weather and some of the inland valleys exhibit the utmost fertility even though the soil is, as a rule, poor and barren. The District is densely populated and a large proportion migrate to Bombay in the fair season. The hill slopes are flooded with plantation of Alphonso and other mango grafts. Alphonso mango, the king of fruits, is exported on a very large scale to Bombay and other markets and forms the main money crop of the District. Ratnagiri, the headquarters town, is open and faces the sea. There is no railway connection, and communication is by steamer with Bombay and by motor with Kolhapur 82 miles away. With the construction of the Bombay-Konkan-Goa road by bridging all the rivers and creeks on the way, Ratnagiri is connected with Bombay by direct bus service via Chiplun, Mahad, Dharamtar, etc. This is the only main line of communication in the rainy season and will be turned into a national highway and cement concreted. This transport service is now taken over by the State.

The area of the District is 5,013 sq. miles. Population: 1,824,343 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 816,546; females 1,007,797).

SANGLI DISTRICT

Headquarters :—Sangli.

Sub-Divisions :—Miraj, Khanapur.

Talukas and Mahals :—Miraj, Tasgaon, Walva, Khanapur, Jath, Shirala (Mahal).

The area and the land revenue of the District are 3,297 square miles and Rs. 22,50,000 respectively. Population : 1,229,640 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 628,607 ; females 601,033).

The climate of the District is generally dry, and healthy, with an average rainfall ranging from 15 to 25 inches.

The Krishna, the Verala, the Warana, and the Agarani are the four important rivers flowing through the District. The soil on the banks of these rivers is very fertile, yielding rich sugarcane crops. Starting from the river Nandhi in the Khanapur Taluka is a canal called Chickli.

The principal crops grown in the District are jowar, millets, pulses, wheat, ground-nut, turmeric, tobacco, sugarcane and a little cotton and rice and some oil-seeds.

Sangli, which is the headquarters of the District, is an important centre of trade and commerce specially for tobacco, groundnuts, turmeric, jaggery, chillies, ghee, and cotton trade. It has ginning, weaving and spinning mills, groundnut, turmeric, iron and steel factories represented chiefly by firms like Kirloskar Bros. at Kirloskarwadi, Dandekar Bros. and Bhide & Sons at Sangli. The town has also oil mills and ice factory. It is also known for its silver, copper and brassware and gold ornaments. There are cloth mills. Bidi making is another big Industry.

Besides, Sangli is a big centre of forward-delivery transactions in groundnut-kernel. Sangli Spices and Oil-seeds Exchange Ltd. is the only Government recognised centre for forward delivery contracts in turmeric in India. It has a Chamber of Commerce and a number of trade Associations.

The Government of India has opened a warehouse at Sangli to store agricultural produce. One Co-operative Sugar Factory (the first of its kind in this District), named "Shetkari Sahakari Sakhar Karkhana", with a working capital of more than Rs. 1¼ crore was started in 1958 at Sangli.

Being a railway junction, Miraj is now commercially developing. It has a weaving mill, an oil mill, an ice factory and industrial works called The Yeshvant Industrial Works. Another town Malgaon is famous for its beetle-leaves, which are exported throughout the year to all parts of India.

Sangli, Madhavnagar and Miraj especially which are in close proximity to one another are now rapidly developing into important educational and industrial centres in Southern Maharashtra. The Raja of Sangli has established at Sangli the "Adhytma Vidya Mandir", an institution solely devoted to the study of Philosophy, Religion and allied pursuits. In 1947 the Maharashtra Technical Education Society, Poona, started at Sangli the New Engineering College which is now named as Walchand College of Engineering, Sangli.

Because of the Mission Hospital (Wanless Hospital), run by the American Presbyterian Mission and founded by the late Sir William Wanless, Miraj has become one of the most up-to-date and efficient medical centres in India. The Sir William Wanless Tuberculosis Sanatorium, at Wanlesswadi, is now the largest among first grade sanatoria in India. Besides the T. B. Sanatorium there is a Leprosarium at Miraj. The Miraj Medical Centre also runs a Nursing School and a Compounding School. The Deccan Education Society of Poona has opened Chintamanrao College of Commerce and Maharashtra Technical Education Society of Poona has opened Atreya Ayurvedic College at Sangli.

Talukas and Mahals : Wai, Satara, Koregaon, Khatau, Karad, Patan, Jaoli, Man, Phaltan, Khandala, Mahableshwar.

The area of the District is 4,041 sq. miles. Population : 1,427,020 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 696,064 ; females 730,956). The language spoken is Marathi.

The chief agricultural produce are jawar and bajri. Others include ragi, wari, wheat, rice and pulses. Cash crops which are a minor item include tobacco, groundnut and sugar-cane.

Forests in the Sahyadri range have considerable store of timber and fire-wood. Sandalwood and bamboo are occasionally found.

Government have undertaken the Koyna river project envisaging the construction of a gigantic Dam close to Helwak village (Patan Taluka) water from which can be used for agricultural purposes by people from Satara, Sholapur and Bijapur Districts and for generating electricity for industrial purposes.

This being a martial District, Free Boardings are run by Government at Satara and Karad for the sons and dependents of the Defence Forces in the Army, Navy and Air Forces. 'The After Care Association' and 'The Soldiers' Board' do useful work under the supervision of the Collector.

There is a large engineering concern manufacturing farm implements, machine tools, and textile machinery at Satara Road Station. Another engineering concern has been established at Udyamnagar near Karad while the one at Karad proper has been expanded with State aid. At Ogalewadi near Karad are the well-known glass works. The Sugar Works at Phaltan also deserve special mention. The Plastic Products of India, Ltd., Satara, a new industry, in the Deccan, has secured State aid.

MAHABLESHWAR

Mahableshwar, 75 miles from Poona, is called the queen of the hill stations in Maharashtra. It is situated on one of the great slopes of the Sahyadri range at an elevation of 4,700 feet above sea-level. During the 8 months from October to May the climate is most agreeable. By day the temperature varies between 80 and 86, while the nights are cool and pleasant. But during the monsoon the rainfall is so heavy, the average being about 250 inches a year, that the place is almost uninhabitable.

It is now possible for people of moderate means to go to the hill station for a comparatively inexpensive holiday and change in the newly opened Holiday Camp set up by the Maharashtra Govt. The Camp is located in the Government House property on the way to the Bombay Point and one-room, two-room and three-room accommodation is available to the public at purely nominal rent. The stay of visitors at the Camp is limited to one week so that the facilities offered are taken advantage of by as many people in need of a change as possible.

The Camp is served by a vegetarian canteen, tap water and electric lighting. It is normally thrown open during the months October to May, and applications for accommodation have to be addressed to the Executive Engineer, Poona Division, Poona.

HOTELS

Hotels are open only eight months in the year and are closed during the monsoon.

PANCHGANI

Panchgani is a well known hill station in Satara North District, 63 miles from Poona. It is 4,300 feet above sea-level and has a cool, salubrious and comparatively dry climate. The average rainfall is about 80 inches a year. Panchgani is thus a well known sanatorium.

Panchgani is habitable throughout the year, and there are excellent shops for provisions and oilman stores. The town is electrified and the roads are well lighted.

Panchgani can be reached from Poona from where there is regular bus service.

The town has a large and up-to-date tuberculosis sanatorium—Bel Air Sanatorium.

SCHOOLS

Panchgani is famous for its schools. They all have their own buildings with laboratories, dormitories and hospitals.

St. Joseph's Convent High School for Girls ; Kimmins High School for Girls ; Sanjivan Vidyalaya ; Billimoria High School ; Union High School ; New Era School for Girls ; St. Peter's High School ; Young Zoroastrian School for Girls.

THANA DISTRICT

Headquarters : Thana.

Talukas and Mahals : Thana, Kalyan, Bhiwandi, Shahapur, Murbad, Wada, Jawhar, Bassein, Palghar, Dahanu, Mokhada Peta.

Area : About 3,685 sq. miles. Population : 1,653,327 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 862,425 ; females 790,902).

The languages spoken are Marathi, Gujarati and Urdu. The Christians of Salsette and Bassein, a very numerous community, are the descendants of the converts of St. Francis Xavier.

In the north-east the hills are covered with wood, and the valleys are but partially cultivated. The villages are seldom more than scattered groups of huts, and the population consists mainly of uncivilised aboriginal tribes, many of whom still wander from place to place as they find water or to suit their fancy.

Thana District is fast developing into a prominent industrial area. Hundreds of acres of land are being converted into sites for factories. Scores of factories have already been set up particularly along the railway track and the Bombay-Agra and Bombay-Poona Roads. Mulund village, which was in Thana Taluka and is now part of Greater Bombay, has been developed into a modern suburb with all the usual amenities.

Bhiwandi, a Taluka town nine miles from Thana situated on the Bombay-Agra Road is noted for handloom and power loom fabrics. The "Bhiwandi" variety of Indian saris is very popular among Deccani women. The town is mostly inhabited by Momins and in some parts of the town every house has a spinning wheel. Bhiwandi Taluka is also famous for its timber and charcoal trade.

Kalyan, the biggest and the most thickly populated town in the District, is 34 miles from Bombay and is a junction on the Central Railway's north-east and south-east sections. "Ullhasnagar" the largest refugee township in Maharashtra is situated in Thana District two miles from Kalyan near the Ulhas River. The township is designed to accommodate 90,000 people.

The main produce of the District is rice which is of superior Kolamb variety.

Dahanu and Bassein Talukas are specially famous for fruit garden and the bulk of Bombay's fruit supply comes from these areas. Bassein plantains and betel leaves are very much in demand.

At Thana, Bhyandar and Belapur there are extensive salt works.

CC-0. Agamnigam Digital Presevation Foundation, Chandigarh

The chief articles of export from Thana District are paddy, rice, vegetables, salt, betel-leaves, plantains, bricks, grass, firewood, charcoal, lime, fish fresh or dried, timber, coconuts, mangoes, flowers, saris, handloom fabrics, woollen cloth and milk.

Tansa and Vihar lakes and the Vaitarna river which are the main sources of Bombay's water supply are situated in Thana District and are connected with Bombay by a special trolly line.

The Thana District Prison is one of the major prisons in the State and there is also a mental hospital on the outskirts of Thana town.

Thana, the chief town, 21 miles north of Bombay, is as already mentioned a station on the Central Railway. The Fort, the Portuguese Cathedral, a few carved and inscribed stones, and several reservoirs are now the only signs that Thana was once an important city. Bassein, on the Western Railway, contains the famous ruins of the ancient Portuguese dominion in Salsette.

There is a 10-year development plan prepared by the Thana Municipality.

Following the bifurcation of Bombay State, 16 villages of Umbergaon Taluka in Thana District, were transferred to Gujarat State and the remaining 26 villages were merged with Dahanu Taluka.

The Thana District Local Board has been reconstituted with a total number of 56 councillors.

WARDHA DISTRICT

Headquarters: Wardha.

Tahsils, Sub-Divisions: Wardha, Hinganghat, Arvi.

The area of the District is 2,429 sq. miles. Population: 631,367 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 321,728; females 309,639). The languages spoken are Marathi and Hindustani.

Wardha is noteworthy in that it has been the seat of a number of Gandhian institutions concerned with village uplift and the ideals of self-sufficiency and self-service.

Wardha has black cotton soil and the most important cash crops grown are jawar and cotton. Though there are rivers likeWainganga, agriculture depends on rain. There is thus an elaborate programme today for sinking new wells and deepening old ones. There are pressing and ginning mills in the District and also textile mills.

YEOTMAL DISTRICT

Headquarters: Yeotmal.

Tahsils: Yeotmal, Darwha, Kelapur, Wuni, Pusad.

The area of the District is 5,246 sq. miles. Population: 1,097,973 (1961 Census—Provisional) (Males 556,987; females 540,986). The language spoken is Marathi.

The staple foodgrain is jawar; other foodgrains are wheat and pulses. As elsewhere the most profitable cash crops are cotton and oilseeds. Forests cover a larger area than in any other District in the State and yield considerable quantity of timber and fuel. The principal industry is the preparation of cotton for the market. Exports include raw cotton, oilseeds, cereals and pulses, and the chief imports include cereals and pulses, salt and sugar.

MANIPUR

Chief Commissioner, Jagat Mohan Nath Raina. Area : 8,628 sq. miles ; Population : 7,78,318 ; Density : 90·21 ; Capital : Imphal ; Strength of Territorial Council : 32 including two nominated members.

Names of Districts with population : Manipur Plains District 5,14,027 ; Hills District 2,64,291.

Names of Districts with names of taluks and their population within brackets : Manipur Plains District (Imphal East and Imphal West 2,99,863; Thoubal 1,35,133 ; Jiribam 18,143) ; Hills District (Mao 32,628 ; Churachandpur 63,276 ; Tengnowpal 27,651 ; Ukhrul 48,475 ; Tamenglong 36,554 ; Sadar Hills 37,564).

The 1961 census counting was not complete at the time of writing this.

Manipur bounded on the east and south by Burma and on the north and west by the Naga Hills and the Cachar District of Assam, is a highly strategic territory on the eastern frontier of India. Two land routes from Burma pass through its territory. It was formally proclaimed a Chief Commissioner's Province of the Indian Union on the 15th of October, 1949, and became a Part C State when the Constitution of 1950 came into force. Following the reorganization of States in India, Manipur became a Union Territory from 1st November 1956 and it is now administered as a Union Territory under the provisions of the Union Territories Act, 1956.

In the Territorial Council there are 32 members comprising 19 Congress members, Communists 4, Socialist Party 6 and Independents 3. Two are nominated.

The Congress enjoys absolute majority.

Seven hundred square miles of the Territory form a central valley, 2,600 feet above sea-level, which is shut in on all sides by extensive hill tracts at places over 6,000 feet, covering the rest of the Territory. The climate varies from temperate in the valley to cold in the high hills. The rainfall on the average is 65 inches in the year.

The main population is "Meiteis" inhabiting the valley with some 40 tribes and sub-tribes known by the generic names of Nagas and Kukis. Though a number of different dialects are spoken in the Territory, Manipuri and English are the official languages. The people are carefree and healthy, with a passion for religious festivals involving community dances in which both sexes join.

There are about 1,102 refugee families in Manipur.

The soil is fertile. Rice is the principal crop.

The area under cultivation is about three lakh acres.

Handloom weaving is a popular industry throughout the Territory and Manipuri cloth of various picturesque and indigenous designs is in demand throughout India and even outside.

There are 5 colleges, 57 high schools, 320 M.E. & U.P. schools and 1,662 primary and junior basic schools. The total number of students for the year ending 31st March 1961 was 1,43,134.

There are 17 hospitals and 67 dispensaries, two touring and mobile dispensaries, and four maternity and child welfare centres.

The outlay for Third Plan is Rs. 1,287·56 lakhs for various Development Schemes. The Schemes are connected with Agriculture, Co-operation and Community Development, irrigation and power, industries and mining, transport and communication, social service, housing, labour and labour welfare, welfare of backward classes and scheduled tribes etc.

MYSORE STATE

Area : 74,122 sq. miles (Surveyor General of India's figure).

Population : (1961 census) (Provisional) : 23,547,081 (males 12,021,248 ; females 11,525,833). Percentage increase 1951-61 : 23·44. Sex ratio : 935 females for 1,000 males. Density : 332 per sq. mile. Literacy : 25·3 per cent.

The New Mysore State came into being on Nov. 1, 1960 as a result of the reorganisation of the States. Special efforts have been made to achieve administrative integration and uniform laws are being introduced where varied enactments prevailed.

Capital : Bangalore.

The State is divided into four Divisions for administrative purposes.

The Divisions as well as the Districts which make up each Division are shown below. The names of the District headquarters are given in brackets after the names of the Districts.

1. Bangalore Division : Bangalore (Bangalore), Kolar (Kolar), Tumkur (Tumkur), Chitaldurga (Chitaldurga), Bellary (Bellary).

2. Mysore Division : Mysore (Mysore), Mandya (Mandya), Hassan (Hassan), Chikmagalur (Chikmagalur), Shimoga (Shimoga), South Kanara (Mangalore), Coorg (Mercara).

4. Gulbarga Division : Gulbarga (Gulbarga), Bidar (Bidar), Raichur (Raichur).

There are 19 Districts, 172 Talukas, 288 towns and 25,880 inhabited villages.

The Mysore Village Panchayat and Local Boards Act, 1959, came into force on November 1, 1959. Under the Act, a village or a group of villages with a population of 1,500, has an elected village panchayat, every taluk an elected taluk board and every district a district development council, consisting of the Deputy Commissioner, M.P.s, members of the State Legislature, presidents of taluk boards and Government Officers. Reservation for women and scheduled castes, has been made at all levels.

Certain developmental activities will be assigned to the above newly constituted bodies. Elections for village panchayats and taluk boards were held simultaneously from January 15, 1960 and the elected bodies together with the district development councils have begun to function.

The separation of the judiciary from the executive has been completed. All revenue officers presiding over Magistrates' Courts have been replaced by judicial officers.

The State derived Rs. 3,14,40,150 as excise revenue in 1959-60.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

By the end of October 1960, there were 137 blocks, covering 19,738 villages and nearly 114 lakhs of rural population. Under the re-phased programme, the entire State is to be covered by October 1963.

The main emphasis of the programme is on agricultural production, the other activities being better communications, housing, health and sanitation facilities, education, animal husbandry, small-scale industries and welfare of women and children.

The following are some of the achievements : Area covered by the Japanese method of cultivation 1,263,475 acres ; Improved seeds distributed 967,560 maunds ; fertilisers distributed 6,061,848 mds. ; No. of compost pits dug 352,798 ; Improved animals supplied 3,564 ; Improved birds supplied 99,554 ; Drinking water wells constructed 7,558 ; Kutcha roads built 10,193 ; Adult literacy centres 7,150 ; Mahila Mandals 1,608 (membership : 34,734) ; No. of cooperative societies 8,956 (membership : 997,986).

Expenditure : (Rupees in Lakhs). Upto 1957-58, 297·19 ; 1957-58, 133·10 ; 1958-59, 200·86 ; 1959-60, 243·60 ; Total since inception : 874·75.

People's contribution since inception till June 1960 Rs. 181·90 lakhs.

LAND REFORMS

Mysore is yet to evolve a uniform law to bring about significant land reforms in all parts of the State. A Land Reforms Bill was introduced in the State Assembly on November 29, 1958 by the Revenue Minister. It was referred to a Select Committee.

A net annual income from land of Rs. 3,600 (equivalent to the yield of three family holdings) was proposed as the basis for a ceiling on land holdings in the Bill.

The new Bill is to replace five separate tenancy laws existing in various parts of the State.

The Bill is generally modelled on the recommendations of the Mysore Tenancy and Agricultural Land Laws Committee, headed by Mr. B. D. Jatti, in 1957, with some changes in the light of the opinions expressed in the Legislature and the suggestions made by the Central Committee on Land Reforms of the Planning Commission.

It has been calculated that about 2·5 million acres will be transferred to tenants under the provisions of the Bill. Compensation payable to land-owners will amount to Rs. 37·5 crores.

There are 24·6 lakh holdings in the State comprising 267·8 lakh acres. The average size of a holding is 10·87 acres. The largest number of holdings is the size-group of 2·5 to 5 acres. Of the total area of 267·8 lakh acres, 206·4 lakh acres are under personal cultivation. About 61·4 lakh acres (or 22·95 per cent) are cultivated by tenants. The percentage of land under tenant cultivation varies from district to district. Hassan District has the smallest proportion (2·84 per cent) under tenant cultivation and South Kanara the highest (65·86 per cent).

According to the 1951 census, 71·2 per cent of the total population are dependent on agriculture in the areas now comprising Mysore State. About 47·7 per cent of them are principally owner-cultivators, 9·3 per cent agricultural labourers and 3·4 per cent rent receivers. The Jatti Committee report says that only 28 per cent of the people working on land are landless and the owner-cultivators are more than 13 times those who rent the land.

A ceiling of 27 standard acres has been proposed in the report of the Joint Select Committee. Additional acreage is allowed for families with more than five members and certain types of land like factory-operated sugarcane farms and plantations are exempted from the limit. The Planning Commission is understood to be of the view that the ceiling is too liberal.

The Bill as reported by the Select Committee was expected to be taken up during the Assembly Session scheduled to begin on July 19, 1961.

Live stock and poultry (1956) : (figures in thousands) : Cattle 89,66 ; Buffaloes 26,69 ; Sheep 40,59 ; Goats 25,84 ; Horses & ponies 44 ; Other live stock 1,85,66 ; Poultry 76,68.

Veterinary institutions (1959-60) : Taluk dispensaries 163 ; Rural dispensaries 286.

FOREST (1957-58)

Forest area : 13,556·68 sq. miles (latest available).

The forests are rich in teak, rosewood, venteak, tumkino, white cedar, ebony, etc. Rich forest areas hitherto untapped are also present with bamboos and soft wood species, potential sources of raw material for paper, rayon, plywood and matchwood industries. The revenue of the forest department is about Rs. 3·50 crores per annum.

IRRIGATION

The total area irrigated is 1,829,208 acres. Of this the area irrigated by Government canals is 396,363 acres, by private canals 11,579 acres, by tanks 809,393 acres, by wells 319,654 acres, other sources 292,259 acres.

At the end of the first Plan, it was estimated that about 1·7 million acres were irrigated in the State. Another 700 thousand acres will be brought under irrigation by the end of the Second Plan period thereby bringing the total to 2·40 million acres, 1·14 million acres under minor irrigation and 1·26 million acres under major and medium irrigation. This will increase the percentage of area irrigated to net area sown to 10. An area of 1,02,000 acres was benefited from minor irrigation projects and about 1,93,000 acres under major and medium irrigation projects during the first three years of the 2nd Plan. About 42 per cent of the total outlay of Rs. 33 crores for major and medium irrigation scheme was spent in the first three years of the 2nd Plan.

[1] Water was allowed for an area of 2,02,056 acres upto July 1960 of which 70,695 acres have been irrigated. [2] Water made available for 82,210 acres of which 50,000 acres were actually irrigated. [3] Total extent of area to be irrigated is 1·07 lakh acres of which 7,400 acres are in Mysore State limits. [4] Water has been allowed for an area of 31,304 acres of which 17,000 acres have been irrigated. [5] Water was allowed to irrigate 21,500 acres during 1956–57, but the actual area brought under cultivation is 21,000 acres. [6] Water has been allowed for the full ayacut of 20,000 acres of which 14,000 have been irrigated. [7] The canal is proposed to be extended at a cost of Rs. 21·50 lakhs to irrigate an additional area of 8,000 acres. [8] Area served with irrigation facilities for 82,500 acres upto end of June 1959, but the actual area irrigated is 20,210 acres. [9] Wheat 800 tons.

Total irrigation potential created upto March 1960: 4,32,999 acres. Total area irrigated upto March 1960: 2,05,030 acres. Percentage of utilization at the end of March 1960: 47·3.

There is a scheme for maintaining and repairing over 35,000 tanks of various sizes by levying an acreage cess not exceeding Rs. 5 per annum on the beneficiaries.

CO-OPERATION

Co-operation (1959): No. of societies: 12,596; Membership 1,871,406; Working capital (in thousand rupees) 705,279; Population covered in millions 22·48; No. of societies per one lakh inhabitants: 56·03; No. of members of primary societies per thousand population 83·24; Average working capital in rupees, per head of population 31·37.

The following are some of the other diesel stations with the installed capacity in Kw.: Sandur 78 Kw.; Udipi 110 Kw.; Karkala 32 Kw.; Mangalore 1,284 Kw.

* Right Bank (Andhra and Mysore) Dam Site and canal stations. Mysore share 1/5th (only two units of 9,000 Kw. now in service).

† Mysore's share of 25 per cent.

The Second Plan aimed at an additional installed capacity of 74,600 kW. The expenditure during the 1st four years under this head amounted to Rs. 19·72 crores as against the total Plan provision of Rs. 27·56 crores.

Sharavathi Hydro-Electric Project: It is the biggest hydro-electric project of the country, located at 15 miles from Talaguppa Rly. station near Jog, within easy distance of load centres and benefiting Mysore State and ultimately parts of the neighbouring States of Maharashtra, Andhra, Madras and Kerala. Electricity produced in this Rs. 39·65 crore (first stage) scheme will be the cheapest in India. The foundation was laid on February 5, 1958. When the ten units that are proposed to be installed go into operation in four or five years the Sharavathi hydel station will produce 891,000 Kws. of power. The expenditure during 1956-60 of the Plan amounts to Rs. 10·05 crores and an outlay of Rs. 7·11 crores was proposed for 1960-61 for both civil and electrical works. It is expected that the Sharavathi Project will be commissioned by Dec. 1962.

LARGE-SCALE INDUSTRIES

Main large-scale industries in the State with location: Textiles (Bangalore, Davangere, Bellary, Mysore, Hubli, Gadag, Gokak, Gulbarga); Engineering (Bangalore, Harihar); Mineral and Metal (Bangalore, Bhadravati, Bellary, Kolar, Shimoga); Food, drink and tobacco (Bangalore); Chemicals, dyes, etc. (Bangalore, Mysore); Paper and printing (Bhadravati, Nanjangud, Dandeli, Mandya and Bangalore); Process relating to wood, stone and glass (all over the State); Process connected with hides and skins (Bangalore); Gins and presses (Davangere, Belgaum, Bellary, Dharwar, Gulbarga & Raichur); Fisheries (Mangalore, Karwar).

Major industries owned by the Union Government located in Bangalore: The Hindustan Machine Tools Ltd.; Bharat Electronics Ltd.; The Hindustan Aircraft Ltd., Bangalore; The Indian Telephone Industries, Bangalore.

Government Aided Concerns: The Radio & Electrical Manufacturing Co., Bangalore; The Mysore Lamp Works, Bangalore; The Mysore Paper Mills, Bhadravati; The Mysore Sugar Company, Mandya and The Mysore Industrial & Testing Laboratory Ltd., Bangalore; The Mysore Spun Silk Mills, Channapatna; The Mysore Chemicals and Fertilisers, Belagula; The Mysore Tobacco Co. curing centres at Mandya, Mysore, Kolar; The Mysore Stoneware Pipes and Potteries, Soladevanahalli, near Chikbanavar Railway Station; The Mysore Coffee Curing Works, Chikmagalur; The Mysore Chrome Tanning Co., Bangalore; The Mysore Lamp Works, Bangalore; Mysore Water Projects Ltd.; H.A.L. Post, Bangalore; Mysore Match Co. Ltd., Shimoga.

The main industries in Belgaum and Dharwar districts are textiles, food, drinks, tobacco and gins and presses. The textile industry supports a large number of workers. There are three textile mills in Dharwar and one in Belgaum.

In Gulbarga and Raichur districts, the major industries are (1) the Hutti Gold Mines Co. Ltd., (2) the Associated Cement Companies Ltd., Shahabad and (3) MSK Mills Ltd., Gulburga (Textiles).

Paper Mills: Apart from the three existing units at Bhadrawati, Nanjangud and Dandeli, licences have been granted in three cases for setting up paper factories at Belagora and Dharwar and a rayon viscos factory in N. Kanara Dt.

Cement: There are three units engaged in the manufacture of cement and these are located at Bhadrawati, Bagalkot and Shahbad. Licence has been granted for the starting of another factory at Ammasamdra in Tumkur Dt.

Sugar Mills: There are seven sugar mills at Mandya, Hospet, Munirabad, Kampti, Ugar, Pandavapura and Shimoga. Mill at Sangesswara in Belgaum Dt. was expected to go into production by 1960. Licences have been granted for the establishment of two more units at Gangavati and Mudhol.

The cashewnut industry is one of the most important both in North and South Kanara. In South Kanara it gives employment to about 5,500 workers. South Kanara produces 2,880 tons of nuts. Besides, about 9,000 tons of cashewnuts are imported from Africa for processing in the local factories.

The West Coast Paper Mills, a Rs. 5 crore self-contained unit for the manufacture of paper with a daily capacity of 60 tons, was inaugurated at Dandeli in North Kanara District on May 16, 1959.

Textiles (July 1960): Spinning Mills: 7; Composite mills: 11; No. of spindles 4,56,860; No. of looms 4,965; Average no. of workers employed (all shifts) 25,743; Approximate quantity of cotton consumed 6,53,191 cwts.; Yarn produced: 59,499 (thousand lbs.) (1958); Cloth produced: (on handlooms) 79,975 (thousand yards); Cloth produced (power loom) 4,541 (thousand yards); No. of cotton handlooms: 1,44,594 (1958); Woollen handlooms: 14,638 (1958); Silk handlooms: 7,929 (1958); No. of weavers co-operative societies: Cotton 347; Woollen 101; Silk 37.

Figures for 1959-60.

Gold Production at Kolar Gold Mining Undertakings: 47·72 lakh grams; Value: Rs. 5,09,69,000.

Silver produced at Kolar Gold Mining Undertakings: 3·37 lakh grams; Value: Rs. 60,000.

Figures for 1957-58:

Gold produced at Hutti Gold Mines: 5·04 lakh grams; Value Rs. 54,49,060.

Silver produced at Hutti Gold Mines: 41,215 grams. Value: Rs. 7,253.

Other minerals: Iron ore 10,72,528 metric tons; Manganese Ore 2,64,303 metric tons.

The Watch Factory to be started at Bangalore as a public sector project (as an adjunct to Hindustan Machine Tools) will be designed to manufacture about half a million full lever watches annually. The Bangalore factory would receive the collaboration of the Japanese firm, Citizen Watch Company.

NEW PAY SCALES FOR GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

The Government of Mysore announced on March 2, 1961, the introduction of new pay scale to its employees with retrospective effect from January 1, 1961.

They will entail an additional annual expenditure of Rs. 3·5 crores immediately. The sum will increase to Rs. 6 crores in about five years.

Some major features of the order are: 1. A merger of the present dearness allowance with pay and the consequent fixation of pay scales; 2. The introduction of a new scheme of dearness allowance and compensatory-cum-house rent allowance for low-paid employees; 3. An increase in the rate of dearness allowance to pensioners from Rs. 6 to Rs. 10 per month; 4. The fixation of minimum emoluments to clerks and Class IV employees of Rs. 90 and Rs. 60 per month respectively and; 5. An improvement in the pay scales of technical personnel working in Government departments.

LABOUR

Industries: (According to the census of manufacturing industries conducted in 1957): No. of factories 185; Persons employed 68,899; Productive capital (in thousand rupees) (fixed) 24,47,03; working 24,60,18; Wages & salaries (in thousand rupees): To workers: 5,11,62; To other than workers: 2,03,33; Non-cash benefits: 41,24; Cost of materials consumed: Rs. 3,48,732; Cost of fuel consumed: Rs. 37,620; Depreciation: Rs. 18,009; Value added by manufacture: Rs. 1,55,558; Ex-factory value of products & by-products including work done to others: 5,69,922.

Industrial production (1959): Pig iron & ferro alloys: 90,941 tons; Ingots & semis: 47,054 tons; Finished steel: 33,984 tons; Cement: 6,34,500 tons; Sugar: 92,530 tons; Paper: 22,314 tons; Vanaspati: 4,034 tons; Cotton Yarn: 6,41,99,000 lbs.; Cotton Piece-goods: 7,47,64,000 yards; crockery: 20,000 tons; Sulphuric acid (ordinary): 68,75,000 tons; Ammonium sulphate, 38,64,000 tons.

In regard to rural housing, the Mysore Village Housing Projects scheme proposes the construction of 3,500 houses in 250 selected villages during the Second Five Year Plan. The scheme functions in 31 villages. The Rural Housing Cell is preparing Master Plans for the selected villages.

SMALL-SCALE INDUSTRIES

Important cottage industries showing their centres in Mysore State within brackets : Lacquerware (Chennapatna, Gokak, Nelamangala, Chikmagalur and Shimoga) ; Sandalwood carving (Sagar, Sorab, Mysore) ; Ivory and Inlay works (Sagar, Sorab Mysore) ; Brass works (Nelamangala) ; Rattan work (Mysore, Chikmagalur, Shimoga and Sagar) ; Bidriware (Bidar) ; Glass Bangle making (Yeswantpur) ; Mat weaving (Kengeri, Amruthur, Nagamangala, Hassan, Kumblur, Anandapura and Hiriyur) ; Leather stitching (Birur, Sagar, Doddasiddavanahally, Indi and Karwar) ; Pottery (Ramanagaram, Khanapur, Madikebeedu and Krishnarajapuram) ; Tile-making (Mangalore) ; Coir Industry (Mangalore, Karwar) ; Agarbatti (Mysore, Bangalore).

Mysore State has a large number of small scale industries apart from important cottage industries. All these industries have an investment less than Rs. 5 lakhs each and are flourishing in Mysore State. The important centres for small scale industries are Bangalore, Belgaum, Tumkur, Hubli, Hospet, Bhadravati and Mangalore.

Among the important products that have got all-India market, the following are noteworthy : Cycle Dynamo Lamps manufactured by Messrs. Satya Industries ; Centre lathes manufactured by Messrs. B. H. NAGALAND

Area : 6,331 sq. miles.

Population : 369,000. According to the 1951 census figures, Nagaland (as now constituted) has a population of 2,12,975, but this leaves out the population of 2,000 sq. miles of Tuensang. Only a 50 sq. mile area of Tuensang (then known as Naga Tribal Area) was covered by the 1951 census and the population there was recorded as 7,025. In 1957, the population of Tuensang was estimated at 1,63,000.

Headquarters : Kohima.

Administrative Districts with headquarters shown within brackets : Kohima (Kohima); Mokokchung (Mokokchung) ; Tuensang (Tuensang).

There are about 718 villages.

This administrative unit comprising the Naga areas of Assam State and North-East Frontier Agency, that is, the Naga Hills district of Assam and the Tuensang Frontier Division of NEFA, came into being on December 1, 1957, following the acceptance by the Government of India of a resolution passed by a Naga convention at Kohima which advocated this course as a step preliminary to solving the political deadlock there.

In pursuance of an agreement between the Naga People's convention and the Government of India on the basis of the recommendations of the convention held in October 1959 at Mokokchung, the Naga Hills Tuensang area was renamed as Nagaland from 18th February 1961 under the Nagaland (Transitional Provisions) Regulation, 1961 as a preliminary to the constitution of Nagaland into a full-fledged State of the Indian Union.

Nagaland will continue to be administered by the Governor of Assam as Agent to the President with the assistance of an Executive Council consisting of five members with a Chairman and an Interim Body of 45 members, which is purely advisory in character. The ultimate responsibility for the Administration continues to rest with the External Affairs Ministry. The Governor carries on the Administration through a Commissioner at Kohima and three Deputy Commissioners in the districts and other staff. He has also the assistance of an Adviser in Shillong with his deputies, a Legal Adviser and a Financial Adviser.

The economy of the unit is entirely dependent on agriculture. Revenue is derived from house tax and forest produce like bamboo, cane, timber, thatch and 'Agar'. Rice is grown but all other necessaries of life have to be imported. The Naga tribes depend on their own cottage industry for cloth but yarn is imported.

The main tribes in the Area are : Angami, Sema, Lhotha, Ao, Rengma, Chakesang, Sangtam, Konyak, Chang, Phom, Yimchungurr, Khiemungan.

Education (in March, 1961) : Total number of Govt. Lower Primary Schools (including 6 central) 428 ; total number of students 17,991; total number of Teachers 577 ; total number of Govt. M. E. Schools (including English Schools) 57 ; total number of students in Govt. M. E. Schools 10,100 ; total number of teachers in M. E. Schools 384 ; total number of Govt. H. E. Schools (English High Schools) 7 ; total number of students in Govt. H. E. Schools 4,072 ; total number of teachers in H. E. Schools 119 ; total number of Govt. Schools in the Area 503 ; total number of students in Govt. Schools in the area 34,685 ; total number of teaching staff in the area 1,134.

Public Health : (in March, 1961) : Total number of hospitals 24 ; total number of dispensaries 34 ; total number of Civil Doctors 72.

Communication : The area is connected by road, foot path and jeep track. The rail head Dimapur (or Manipur Road) is the starting point of a National Highway which runs through Kohima to Imphal, Headquarters of the Union Territory of Manipur and the nearest airport served by scheduled flight of the Indian Airlines.

Road (1961) : National Highway from Dimapur to Mao 64 miles ; road capable of taking 3 ton trucks including N. H. 222 miles ; jeepable road 416 miles ; mule paths 308 miles ; porters tracks 213 miles; bridle tracks and jeep roads widened to take heavier vehicles 491 miles.

During the Third Plan period, it is proposed to construct the following :—Construction of 518 miles new road ; improvement to existing unsurfaced roads 595 miles ; construction of 189 miles of mule paths ; surfacing of existing roads 111 miles.

Expenditure as proposed in the Administration's Third Five Year Plan is Rs. 405·00 lakhs and as accepted by the Planning Commission is Rs. 250 lakhs.

NAGA CONVENTION

A Naga People's Convention which met at Kohima in August 1957 marked a turning point in the solution of the Naga problem. There were about 2,000 delegates representing various Naga tribes. The underground Nagas did not participate in the convention because Government insisted that they must first surrender.

The convention approved a draft constitution prepared by a drafting committee. The essence of the constitution is a Naga State within the Indian Union and internal autonomy with responsible government.

The draft was to form the basis of the negotiations with the Government. Meanwhile the convention was to try and get it accepted by those Nagas who were more or less in a state of revolt against the Government. This it was expected would take time as there are 15 major Naga tribes in the underground movement and the open leadership has to establish contact with all the tribes.

In New Delhi there appeared to be general satisfaction in official circles that the draft constitution had categorically rejected the chimera of an independent sovereign State entertained by Mr. Phizo, the leader of the Naga rebels.

It was pointed out that the Naga area itself showed increasing signs of returning to normalcy. From Dec. 1, 1957 to Feb. 17, 1961 (since the Naga Hills Tuensang unit was formed, about 6,000 hostile elements had either surrendered or been captured. Several thousand Nagas, who had abandoned their villages and taken to the jungles, had also returned to their homes and had been resettled. Practically all the "suspect" villages that had been "grouped" earlier for security reasons had been "disgrouped."

CONSTITUTION

The constitution mentioned above was prepared by a Drafting Committee which had been previously set up by a select Committee of the Convention.

This Drafting Committee ran into a good deal of trouble. Several prominent Nagas resigned from the select Committee because they said the Drafting Committee had been constituted without their knowledge. Another criticism made was that the members of the Drafting Committee were Nagas who were either Government contractors or Government servants. So it was said the Government was engaged in forcing a constitution on the Nagas against their will.

The draft prepared by the Drafting Committee was considered and adopted with certain changes at the Convention of the N.P.C. at Mokokchung in October 1959. Thereafter negotiations between the N.P.C. leaders and the Governor of Assam took place in April 1960, as a preliminary to the negotiations with the Government of India in July 1960. After discussions lasting for nearly a week between the Government of India and the N.P.C. the following agreement was reached and approved by the Government of India.

As a first step in the implementation of this agreement the President promulgated the Nagaland Transitional Provision Regulation, 1961, providing for setting up an Interim Advisory Body consisting of 45 members and an Executive Council of four members and the Chairman. In the Interim period the Governor of Assam, continuing to act as Agent to the President, will carry on the Administration with the aid and assistance of the Executive Council.

The territories that were heretofore known as the Naga Hills-Tuensang Area under the Naga Hills-Tuensang Area Act, 1957, shall form a State within the Indian Union and be hereafter known as Nagaland.

The Nagaland shall be under the Ministry of External Affairs of the Government of India.

Some of the main provisions of the Nagaland (Transitional Provisions) Regulation 1961 are as follows :—

The Interim Body shall consist of forty-five members chosen by election from the tribes in Nagaland, in accordance with such rules as may be made in this behalf having due regard to the customs and usages of the tribes.

The Interim Body shall, as soon as may be, choose a member of that Body to be the Chairman thereof.

CC-0. Agamnigam Digital Presevation Foundation, Chandigarh

Duration of Interim Body : The Interim Body shall continue for a period of three years from the date appointed for its first meeting;

Provided that the Governor may at any time before the expiry of the said period dissolve the Interim Body.

Meetings of Interim Body : The Interim Body shall meet at least once in every four months.

Functions of Interim Body : The Interim Body shall have the right to discuss and make recommendations to the Executive Council on:—

(a) matters of administration involving general policy and schemes of development;

(b) any other matter referred to it by the Executive Council;

Provided that the Interim Body shall not discuss any matter exclusively affecting, or relating to, the Tuensang District except with the consent of all the members from that District.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of sub-section (1), the Interim Body may make recommendations to the Executive Council in regard to the constitution and composition of the Legislative Assembly of the State of Nagaland the manner in which members thereof shall be chosen and all matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

(3) The functions of the Interim Body referred to in this section will be advisory only, but due regard shall be given to such advice by the Executive Council in reaching decisions or in making recommendations to the Governor.

Executive Council : There shall be an Executive Council to assist and advise the Governor in the exercise of his functions in relation to such matters (other than finance and the maintenance of public order) as may be specified by the Governor in this behalf;

Provided that the Governor may, in respect of any question relating to financial matters or the maintenance of public order, consult the members of the Executive Council.

The Executive Council shall consist of such members of the Interim Body, not exceeding five in number, as the Governor may appoint after obtaining the recommendations of that Body.

The Executive Council shall, as soon as may be, choose a member of the Council to be the Chairman thereof, and so often as the office of Chairman becomes vacant, the Council shall choose another member to be the Chairman.

The Governor may make rules for the more convenient transaction of the business of the Executive Council and for the allocation of the said business among the members thereof and for the association of the members of the Executive Council with the Commissioner in the administration of Nagaland.

The members shall hold office during the pleasure of the Governor.

Any such member who ceases to be a member of the Interim Body shall also cease to be a member of the Executive Council.

The salaries and allowances of members shall be such as the Governor may, from time to time, determine.

Village, Range and Tribal Councils : With effect from such date as the Commissioner may appoint in this behalf, there shall be a Village Council for each village, a Range Council for each range and a Tribal Council for each tribe.

(2) The Interim Body may, with the previous approval of the Governor, make bye-laws regulating :—

(a) the constitution of Village, Range and Tribal Councils;

(b) the powers exercisable by the said Councils in disputes involving breaches of customary laws and usages; and

(c) the powers exercisable by the said Councils in relation to such other matters as may be prescribed.

Power to make rules : The Governor may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules to carry out all or any of the purposes of this Regulation.

The Interim Body for Nagaland was inaugurated on February 18, 1961 by the Governor of Assam at Kohima. Forty-two members of the Interim Body were sworn in. These representing 14 Naga Tribes will constitute the State Assembly until the Nagaland is formally created Dr. Imkongliba * was elected Chairman of the Interim Body.

The Nagaland five-man Executive Council was sworn in on March 16, 1961 at Raj Bhavan in Shillong. The following five Executive councillors were sworn in on March 16, 1961 at Shillong : Silu Ao (Chairman), Jasokie Angami, R. C. Chiten Jamir, Hokishe Sema and Akum Imlong Chang.

PORTS

Chandbali and Gopalpur are the two ports in the State. Upto the end of Nov. 1960 a sum of Rs. 2,31,221 was spent for the development of Chandbali port out of the Govt. of India loan to the tune of Rs. 2,46,315.

Gopalpur: There has been no sea-borne trade since 1942. The Govt. of India had agreed to include in the Third Plan the development scheme of this port at a cost of Rs. one lakh. A sum of Rs. 20,000 is likely to be spent during the year 1961-62.

Paradip: The Intermediate Ports Development Committee appointed by the Government of India have recommended Paradip to be developed in stages into an all weather Port. For the 1st stage development they have recommended an expenditure of Rs. 1·54 crores during the 3rd plan period so that the port may be able to export 5 lakh tons of ore per annum. Out of this, the first priority schemes are estimated to cost Rs. 99 lakhs.

So far about 69,000 tons of iron ore have been exported to Japan in thirteen ships.

The total cost of the proposed major port at Paradip would be about Rs. 8·66 crores as estimated by the Japanese Mission in 1956.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

(See under article on Community Development projects.)

PANCHAYATS

A three-tier system, viz. Grama Panchayats, Panchayat Samitis and Zila Parishads, at the Village, Block and District levels, respectively, is envisaged. Under the Orissa Gram Panchayat Act, 1948, Gram a Panchayats at Village level and Adalati Panchayats (for every circle) have already been established.

The Orissa Zila Parishads Act, 1959 has been enforced and 307 Panchayat Samitis covering the entire State have been constituted on Jan. 26, 1961. The Zila Parishads have also been constituted at the District level. The Zila Parishad will be a supervisory and advisory body and the Panchayat Samiti will be an executive body with functions, e.g. the execution of development works, management and control of primary education, etc.

MINERALS

Rajasthan is an important mineral and building stone producing State. It ranks next to Bihar in Mica which is chiefly found in Ajmer, Udaipur, Bhilwara and Jaipur Districts.

The non-metallic minerals are Silica sand, Felspar, Asbestos, Barytes, Clays, Emerald, Fuller's earth, Bentonite, etc. The metallic minerals are lead, zinc, silver ore, iron ore and manganese ore. Lead concentrates and zinc concentrates are prepared at Zawar mines in Udaipur. Appreciable tonnage of iron and manganese ores has also been produced. The State is the sole supplier of gypsum for fertiliser manufacture to Sindri plant.

Lignite (coal) is mined near Palana in Bikaner District. There are vast deposits of high quality building stones such as marbles, sandstones and limestones. Limestone is used for the manufacture of cement at Lakheri and Sawai Madhopur and for lime at a number of places. Marble quarried at Makrana in Nagaur District is famous as building stone.

Large resources of sodium sulphate and salt also occur at Deedwana and Sambhar lake. Uranium deposits have been found at Umra and Udaisagar in Udaipur District.

Production in thousand tons of some important Minerals in 1959 : Coal (Lignite), 24·43 ; Metallic minerals : (a) Ferrous (i) Iron ore 84·29, (ii) Manganese ore 5·83 ; (b) Non-ferrous (i) Lead (concentrate) 7·33, (ii) Zinc (concentrate) 10·64 ; Non-Metallic minerals : Asbestos 1·14 ; Barytes 1·68 ; Calcite 5·86 ; Emeralds (Sold) † 0·05 ; Felspar 5·99 ; Garenet 0·36 ; Dolomite 5·98 ; Graphite 0·05 ; Fuller's earth 6·00 ; Glass Sand 16·67 ; Gypsum 741·63 ; Kyanite 0·05 ; Mica cut 98·80 ; Selenite 0·04 ; Soapstone 52·72 ; Building materials : Quartz 5·36 ; Marble 28·97 ; Bentonite 3·05 ; Limestone (for cement making) 1,417·30 ; Lime stone (for lime making) 173·70 ; Dimensional stone 2,142·69; Phyllites & Quartzites 228·00 ; Kankar Bajri, Mohrum 1,715·70 ; Masonry Stone 553·00 ; Brick earth 586·79 ; Sand stone 592·21 ; Building stone 503·82 ; Ordinary clay 4·28.

INDUSTRIES

Among the large-scale industries of Rajasthan, cotton textile, cement, glass and sugar are important. There are seven cotton textile mills (working), 2 cement factories, 1 glass factory and 2 sugar mills (working) in the State. The industrial production of some commodities during 1959 was as under :—

Cloth—lakh kg. : 64 (474 lakh metres) ; Yarn—lakh kg. : 135 ; Glass—Metric tonnes : 841 ; Cement—lakh metric tonnes : 9·3 ; Salt —lakh metric tonnes : 3·1 ; Ball Bearings—No. in '000 : 1658·4 ; Electric metres—No. in '000 : 100·5 ; Sugar (1957-58)—'000 metric tonnes : 7·2 ; Sodium Sulphate—lakh metric tonnes (1957-58) : 1·1 ; Foreign Spirit—'000 litres : 257·8 ; Rectified Spirit—'000 Litres : 957·4 ; Denatured Spirit— '000 Litres : 74·1 ; Country Spirit—'000 L. P. Gal. 382·8.

The most important cottage and small-scale industries are Tie and Dye Fabrics, Gota Kinari (Silver and Gold laces), wooden toys, Handmade paper, Papier Mache toys, Gem cutting, cloth printing, manufacture of agricultural tools and implements, Embroidered shoes (Jutiyan) and leather bags, water bottles (Badlas) and handloom weaving.

AGRICULTURE

Main Food Crops of the State: Cereals—Bajra, Jowar, Wheat, Maize, Barley, Small millets, Rice; Pulses: Gram, Tur, other Rabi pulses, other Kharif pulses.

Main cash crops of the State: Oilseeds: Sesamum, Rape and Mustard, Linseed, Groundnut; Cotton, Sugarcane, Tobacco, Chillies, Potatoes.

Production of principal food crops in '000 metric tonnes and area in '000 hectares for the year 1958-59 respectively are as follows:—

Cereals: Bajra 9,88; 40,02; Jowar 3,35; 10,89; Wheat 10,49; 11,87; Maize 5,41; 5,80; Barley 6,12; 5,39; Small Millets 37; 85; Rice 85; 79.

Pulses: Gram: 11,40; 15,55; Tur 4; 17; Other Rabi pulses: 8; 18; Other Kharif pulses: 3,55; 16,71.

Oilseeds: Sesamum: 1,16; 4,88; Rape & Mustard: 79; 291; Linseed: 27; 1,21; Groundnut: 47; 68.

Cotton: N.A.; 2,10; Sugar cane: 4,42; 20; Tobacco: 3; 6; Chillies: 11; 19; Potatoes: 4; 1.

Fish: Variety of Fish produced: There are large numbers of tanks, lakes and rivers in which inland fishes are found. The main species are the major carps, viz. Rohu, Migal, Kalbasu and Katla; Minor carps, viz. Mahaseer; Cat Fishes: Launchi and Seenghara; Live Fish: Sol, Magur and Singhi.

Revenue obtained during 1959-60 by way of public fish auctions was, Rs. 3·13 lakhs.

The Central Mechanised Farm, Suratgarh: The Central Mechanised Farm at Suratgarh in Rajasthan came into operation on Aug. 15, 1956. The farm was set up with the help of a Rs. 7·8 million worth gift of agricultural machinery to constitute a standard compact unit (including 69 tractors, 75 ploughs, 50 cultivators, 80 seed drills, 500 harrows, 60 harvestor/combines etc. and 15 trucks, 4 bulldozers, 2 jeeps and 2 passenger cars, etc. from Russia.

Suratgarh covers 30,670 acres including 23,355 acres of waste land. This area consists of 18,300 acres of good land, 4,800 acres of easily reclamable alkali land, and 7,500 acres of difficult land with a high salt content. On the whole, the land is alluvial and flat, and therefore reclamation is not difficult. It gets perennial water for irrigation from Bhakra. Adequate communication and transport facilities exist. The land has been taken over by the Central Government on lease for 15 years, initially.

The farm employed about 200 ex-servicemen initially; now its worker strength is about 500. The acreage sown in different years, the outturn and their value are as follows:—

Period	Area sown in acres		Total outturn (in maunds)	Value of the products (in rupees)
	Rabi	Kharif
1956–57 ..	2,993·29	..	20,793	4,43,650
1957–58 ..	2,484·00	1,864·00	18,093	2,90,100
1958–59 ..	11,230·25	2,923·55	147,084	..
1959–60 ..	15,843·75	6,989·05	..	..

Horticultural and Animal Husbandry projects have been taken up on a pilot project scale since 1959-60. When fully developed, the farm will have 22,000 acres under crops, 2,000 acres under orchards and 1,500 acres under animal husbandry projects.

LAND TENURE

Land Tenure Systems in the State:

There are three kinds of land tenure in the State viz., Ryotwari, Jagirdari and Zamindari.

The Rajasthan Tenancy Act aims at introducing a uniform Tenancy Law for the whole of the State and will remove the diversity of conditions prevailing in different parts of Rajasthan in respect of Land Tenures and relations of tenants and landlords or tenants and Government.

The Rajasthan Land Reforms and Resumption of Jagirs Act, 1952 was enacted for the resumption of Jagir Lands, with the exception of jagirs utilised for the maintenance of any place of religious worship or for the performance of religious service. An Amendment was enacted in 1954. It contains provisions for allotment of Khudkast land to Jagirdars and removes the exemption from resumption to Jagirs with annual income below Rs. 5,000. It provides for a scale of compensation including rehabilitation grant.

The Act came into force from 18th February 1952. Resumption of Jagirs was started immediately after the Amendment Act was passed on 15th June 1954. This Act was further amended and the Rajasthan Cash Jagirs Abolition Act, 1958 was passed with a view to abolishing certain classes of cash jagirs.

The number of jagirs thus resumed is 2,43,157 with an estimated annual income of Rs. 437 lakhs. The total estimated rental income of all jagirs is Rs. 3·39 crores. Of an estimated total of Rs. 34·39 crores payable as compensation in 15 annual instalments, a sum of Rs. 684·56 lakhs was paid as final compensation to 12,181 jagirdars during 1959-60.

Steps have been taken to resume all the settled zamindaris and biswedaris in the State. Besides, all religious jagirs having a rental income of more than Rs. 5,000, totalling 48, were resumed by the end of March 1960.

Source of acquisition of compensation money: From the annual income of resumed jagirs, surplus funds if required, are paid out of the Exchequer of the State.

The Bhoodan Yagna Act was passed in 1954 and the Bhoodan Yagna Board created by it started functioning in January 1955. During 1959 the Board received 3,369 acres of land from as many as 37 donors. It has distributed 17,277 acres of land among 1,224 families.

PANCHAYATS

Under the Rajasthan Panchayat Samitis and Zila Parishads Act, 1959, 232 Panchayat Samitis and 26 Zila Parishads have been set up in all the blocks and districts of the State respectively.

The Panchayat Samitis are the executive bodies with wide powers including those for formulating and executing the development programmes, and for imposing taxes. The Zila Parishads are the supervisory and coordinating bodies.

IRRIGATION

Area irrigated more than once (1958): 698,000 acres.

Names of irrigation projects in operation in the respective divisions showing the area irrigated in acres (1957-58):

Udaipur Division: Madar 537; Fateh Sagar Lake with channels 550; Swaroop Sagar and Pichola with channels 249; Bhupal Sagar Tank 2,290; Jaisamand Lake 12,325.

Kankroli Division: Rajsamand 4,877; Nahar Sagar 4,804; Ummed Sagar 5,314.

Kotah Division: Ummed Sagar tank including Ramgarh Canals 5,064; Parvati Canals 8,985.

Jaipur West Division: Chapperwara 4,272; Kalakho Sagar 6,568; Toti Sagar 5,106.

Jaipur East Division: Sainthal Sagar 2,116; J. Ramgarh 13,125; Mansarowar 1,453; Galia Sagar 185; Dhil 4,729.

Jawai Division: Jawai 17,387; Jaswant Sagar 1,506; Sardar Samand 3,009.

Matsya Division: Sikri 21,426; Jaisamand 4,777; Mangalsar 300; Boochara 550; Ajan Bund 19,710; Pichuna Canal 8,477; Ramsagar Tank & Canal 6,574; Urmila Sagar Tank & Canal 4,919; Talshani Tank and Channel 700.

Ganganagar Division: Gang Canal 712,806.

In 1959-60 three major canals namely Gang Canal, Bhakra and Ghaggar irrigated 8·27 lakh acres, 3·53 lakh acres and 0·17 lakh acres of land respectively.

Irrigation works under the Second Five-Year Plan:

Multi-purpose schemes showing within brackets the location, estimated cost and area to be irrigated on completion: Bhakra Nangal* (Ganganagar District; Rs. 2,275·00 lakhs; 570,000 acres); Works in Rajasthan (Rs. 447·39 lakhs); Share of common works (Rs. 1,827·61 lakhs); Chambal Project (Kota and Bundi, Rs. 3,414·25 lakhs; 700,000 acres); Kota Barrage, Rs. 382·55 lakhs; Right main canal, Rs. 1,046·09 lakhs; Left canal, Rs. 219·44 lakhs; Rana Pratap Sagar dam, Rs. 1,766·17 lakhs.

Number of wells constructed during the First Five-Year Plan: 25,000.

Number of wells constructed during the Second Plan: 35,220 (by the year ending Sept. 1960).

Total area irrigated as a result of this newly created potential during 1959-60: 683,750 acres.

Famine hit 4,000 villages in the State as a result of the failure of both Kharif and rabi crops, because of monsoon failure last year (1960).

The State was expected to produce five million tons of food grains during the year 1961.

Rajasthan Canal

Rajasthan Canal Construction: The construction work of the Rajasthan Canal, which is being done from the Harike barrage across the Sutlej, was started in April 1959 near Hanumangarh. The present work relates to earth work, compaction, lining and masonry.

The Rajasthan Canal, which is a Second Five-Year Plan project, outside State plan ceiling, will have a discharge of 18,500 cusecs at the head. About 425·8 miles in length, it will benefit extensive areas in Ganganagar, Bikaner and Jaisalmer Districts of Rajasthan State. The project will be developed in two stages. The length of the branch canals cover a distance of 400 miles and the distributaries 2,000 miles.

The main canal will be in two parts (a) Rajasthan Feeder 134·2 miles long (110·8 miles in Punjab and 23·4 miles in Rajasthan); (b) Rajasthan Canal 291·6 miles long lying entirely in Rajasthan territory.

Estimated to cost Rs. 66·47 crores* for unlined canal, the canal will provide irrigation facilities to a gross area of 6·8 million acres, with a total culturable commanded area of 5·8 million acres (by flow). On full development the area irrigated annually will be about 3·629 million acres, yielding about 2·7 million tons of crops annually valued at Rs. 66 crores.

The building of this canal will involve 10,000 million cft. of earthwork and 400 million sq. ft. of lining for the main canal only and will create employment for over half a lakh of people during construction period. The project will bring under irrigation a large desert area.

About 50,000 men are working round the clock over the 37-mile stretch of the canal in Rajasthan. Earthwork in 23 miles of the feeder, scheduled to take in water in June, is almost complete (March 1961). Work is also in progress on Naurangdasar and Rawatsar distributaries which are expected to start irrigating about 27,000 acres from the next Kharif season.

Direct revenue from this project after full development of the area in the pre-storage period will be about Rs. one crore by way of water rates only. Betterment levy will bring to the exchequer Rs. 45 crores and sale of Government waste land another Rs. 67 crores. Indirect revenue such as rise in income from income-tax, excise, posts and telegraphs, railway, etc. will also be considerable.

POWER PROJECTS

Installed capacity (1959): 57,750 kW.

Position in 1959: (in thousand K.w.h.).

Electricity Generated: Steam or Gas—66,218; Diesel—34,276.

Electricity purchased from non-electric utilities—187.

Total electricity generated and purchased—1,00,681.

Electricity sold as percentage of electricity generated—71·8.

K.w.h. generated and purchased per thousand of population—6,304.

K.w.h. generated and purchased per square mile—763.

Electricity Consumption:—Domestic or residential: 1) Heating and small power—1,668,000 K.w.h.(2) Lights and Fans—160,14,000 K.w.h.

Commercial:—(1) Heating and small power 27,02,000 K.w.h. (2) Lights & Fans 90,62,000 K.w.h.

Industrial Power:—(1) Low & Medium Voltage 215,16,000 K.w.h. (2) High Voltage 17,43,000 K.w.h. Public lighting 37,71,000 K.w.h.; Irrigation and Agricultural Dewatering 21,56,000 K.w.h; Public water works and Sewage Pumping 200,23,000 K.w.h.

At the end of 1959-60 in addition to the 26 Government-owned power houses there were privately-owned power houses at the following places: Bundi, Udaipur, Pali, Rajgarh, Abu Road, Bhawani-mandi, Ladnu, Nawalgarh, Pratapgarh, Banswara, Hanumangarh, Suratgarh, Garhi, Nathwara, Pilani, Merat, Kuchaman, Ajmer and Beawar.

The schemes of rural and urban electrification provide for the installation of diesel and steam generating sets providing 5,391 kW installed capacity along with transmission and distribution lines for 270 miles by the end of the Second Plan.

Bhakra Nangal Project: A total firm power amounting to 105,000 kW would be available for Rajasthan in the post-Bhakra Stage. Share of Rajasthan in the Bhakra Nangal Project is 15·2 per cent. The share of Rajasthan during the Second Plan amounts to 16,437 kW.

The total capital cost upto the end of 1963-64 of the whole project for Rajasthan would be about Rs. 829 lakhs.

Estimated rise in output after completion: 15,000 kW by the end of the 10th year of operation. For more details see Bhakra-Nangal under article "Irrigation."

The following places will get electricity from Bhakra Nangal project: Rajasthan grid substation at Rajgarh, Gajsinghpur, Kesrisinghpur, Karampur, Raisinghnagar, Hanumangarh, Sangria Mandi and Suratgarh; also all important points in Sri-Ganganagar and Bikaner districts. Four towns viz Sriganganagar, Sadulshahar, Hanumangarh, Hanumangarh fort had received Bhakra Power by the end of the Second Plan period.

Chambal Hydro-Electric Scheme: It is a multi-purpose scheme and will serve 29 localities in Rajasthan. The project has been divided into three stages. The first stage will comprise the Gandhi Sagar Dam and the Kota Barrage and a net-work of canals on either side of the barrage for irrigating 11 lakh acres in Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan. Power generation in the 1st stage will be 75,000 kW and the total area to be irrigated would be 5·5 lakh acres in Rajasthan. The revised cost of stage I is estimated at Rs. 63·59 crores. For more details see under "Irrigation".

The first hydro-electric unit of the project was expected to start generating electricity from August 1960.

The project will be financed by the Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan Governments.

TRIPURA

Capital : Agartala.

Area : 4,036 sq. miles ; Population (1961 Census) (Provisional) 1,141,492 (males 591,214 ; females 550,278). See article "Population" for more details.

The number of refugees was 3,69,000 as on 31st December 1959.

Tripura is a Union Territory.

The agricultural wealth of the Territory consists of paddy, jute, cotton, tea and fruit such as pineapple, jackfruit, etc., while forests yield timber, firewood, bamboo and charcoal. Paddy is the main source of revenue.

There are only one District—Tripura, one municipality and Panchayat.

The Territory is divided into ten administrative Sub-Divisions—Sadar, Khowai, Kailasahar, Dharmanagar, Sonamura, Udaipur, Belonia, Sabroom, Kamalpur and Amarpur.

Sadar Sub-Division is divided into ten Tahsils —Sadar, Puranagartala, Bamutia, Mohanpur, Simna, Ishanchandranagar, Kamalasagar, Takarjala, Bishalgar, Charilam.

Khowai Sub-Division is divided into four Tahsils—Khowai, Kalyanpur, Asharambari and Teliamura.

Kailasahar Sub-Division is divided into two Tahsils—Kailasahar and Fatikroy.

Dharmanagar Sub-Division is divided into five Tahsils—Dharmanagar, Brajendranagar, Kurti, Kanchanpur and Longai.

Sonamura Sub-Division is divided into five Tahsils—Sonamura, Kathalia, Bakshanagar, Dhanpur and Matinagar.

Udaipur Sub-Division is divided into two Tahsils—Radhakishorepore and Salgarh.

Belonia Sub-Division is divided into seven Tahsils—Belonia, Rajnagar, Radhanagar, Puranrajbari, Sidhinagar, Rishyamukh and Muhuripur.

Sabroom Sub-Division is divided into five Tahsils—Sabroom, Manu, Amilghat, Samarendraganj and Gorakapa.

Kamalpur Sub-Division is divided into two Tahsils—Kamalpur and Kulai.

Amarpur Sub-Division is divided into three Tahsils—Birganj, Omphi and Dumboornagar.

The Chief Commissioner who is the head of the Territory, is assisted by Secretaries, each in charge of several Departments.

There are also a District Magistrate and two additional District Magistrates and for each of the Sub-Divisions an A.S.D.O. On the judicial side there is a Judicial Commissioner's Court which is the highest Court in the Territory. There are also a District and Sessions Court, one Court of Subordinate and Assistant Sessions Judge and eight Munsiff Courts.

A Territorial council has been established and it has been entrusted with the administration of welfare activities such as education, medical services, agriculture, etc.

Budget for 1961-62 : See under "Late Particulars".

The total value of the finished goods will be about Rs. 2·5 crores. Most of these are co-operative undertakings. In the cottage and small-scale industries 16,000 persons are engaged.

LAND REFORMS

Present System : The Tribals resort to shifting cultivation called jhuming. The Administration is trying to settle the jhumias on settled cultivation.

Settled cultivation falls into the following main land system :

Kayemi Taluks : The kayemi talukdars own their land with full proprietory rights including the right of transfer. The revenue payable by them has been fixed in perpetuity.

Takshishi Taluk : Takshishi Taluks are held on settlement mostly for 20 years with successive right of renewal on enhanced revenue. Most of the takshishi taluks are tea estates.

Khas Mahal : Khas mahal lands are settled on the raiyatwari system, usually in small holdings. The raiyats of khas mahal land have permanent and heritable rights and also the right of transfer, in areas where such a right is recognized by custom.

Niskar lands : During Maharaja's time, people who, by their sustained loyalty, good services, or otherwise could win the favour of the Maharaja, were granted Niskar lands (rent free lands).

Proposed Land Reforms : With a view to providing for the abolition of intermediaries, regulation of rights of owners and tenants, fixation of ceilings on existing holdings and future acquisitions and prevention of fragmentation, "The Tripura Land Revenue and Land Reforms Act, 1960" has been passed and has received the assent of the President. Rules under different sections of the Act (Act 43 of 1960) are being framed.

Displaced Persons (1959-60) : New families settled under : (a) Colony Schemes 200 families—900 displaced persons ; (b) Type Schemes 2,500 families—11,000 displaced persons.

Expenditure incurred : Relief Rs. 7 lakhs ; Rehabilitation Rs. 111 lakhs (Rehabilitation Rs. 32·3 lakhs ; Loan Rs. 78·77 lakhs).

Tribes : Sixteen Tribal colonies have been set up for the Jhumias (shifting cultivators) at various places and the people are gradually taking to settled cultivation. A sum of Rs. 7·976 lakhs has been spent on these schemes upto 1959-60. Betterment of ex-servicemen and labourers is also receiving due attention.

Second Five-Year Plan : The Second Plan provision for Tripura stood at Rs. 9·26 crores. Total expenditure for the 1st three years of the Plan Rs. 438·82 lakhs ; Revised estimates for 1959-60 : Rs. 88·40 lakhs ; Approved Plan ceiling for 1960-61 : Rs. 106·33 lakhs.

Area under individual non-food crops (in acres) for 1958-59 : Linseed 2,02,867 ; Rapeseed and Mustard 3,72,882 ; Groundnut 4,78,059 ; Til 2,02,440 ; Castor 6,934 ; Cotton 1,97,155 ; Jute 36,228 ; Sanai 2,47,171 ; Tobacco 41,939 ; Opium 17,642.

Area possibly available for further cultivation through reclamation measures :—74,69,002 acres (for plains only).

Total forest Area of State = 1,05,81,299 acres.

Three types of trees are planted in the State : (a) Fruit trees, (b) Fuel trees and (c) Timber trees.

Area of plantation and new orchards in 1958-59 : 20,008 acres.

Number in plantation : Fruit trees 19,18,112 ; Fuel & Timber trees 8,81,019.

LIVESTOCK

The following figures are for the period ending June, 1960 : No. of cow bulls 748 ; No. of buffaloe bulls 346 ; No. of rams 327 ; No. of bucks 79 ; No. of boars 316 ; No. of horse and donkey stallion stands 46 ; No. of circle laboratories 4 ; No. of central laboratory 1 ; No. of veterinary hospitals 343 ; No. of stockmen centres 939.

Cattle Breeding : Intensive cattle breeding work was done during the year throughout the State. At all the 14 State Cattle Breeding Farms, pure bred cattle and buffaloes of the allocated breeds were maintained in each of the 9 cattle breeding zones of the State. A total of 11 cattle breeding extension centres are functioning where 5,270 animals were bred and the 15,116 castrations and 2,36,114 inoculations performed.

The Key Village Scheme was implemented to bring about all round development in the State. 83 Artificial Insemination Centres were established in the State under Key Village Scheme, 40 functioning with the financial assistance from the Government of India while the remaining 43 were run entirely at the expense of the State Government.

New Artificial Insemination Sub-Centres were established in 100 Key Village Blocks.

1,12,148 animals (53,861 cows and 58,287 buffaloes) were inseminated while 47,217 males were castrated. The total number of inoculations done in the areas covered by the Key Village Scheme : 9,70,361.

About 900 calves were subsidised with a subsidy of Rs. 10 P.M. between the ages of 6 to 30 months.

At the close of the year there were 10 sheep farms and 20 stud ram centres in the hills and one sheep farm and 22 stud ram centres in the plains. Besides this 20 sheep and wool extension centres were functioning in the State. A total number of 316 rams were issued during the year.

Intensive horse, mule and donkey breeding operations were carried out in 17 districts of the State.

Disease control : No. of outbreaks of animal contagious diseases during the year : 2,511. 2,626 villages involving 49,072 animals were affected by these outbreaks.

No. of cattle heads inoculated against rinderpest : 18,10,475.

No. of veterinary hospitals in the State : 343. No. of indoor patients treated during the year 11,763 ; outdoor patients 15,37,454.

In order to eradicate the menace caused by the stray and wild cattle in urban and rural areas the animal husbandry dept. launched the schemes of licensing cattle, rounding up of stray cattle and catching and taming of wild cows.

Position 1960 :

No. of fry and fingerlings collected from the old and newly tapped spawning grounds and stored in nurseries : 4,17,89,135 and 22,09,703 respectively.

Departmentally 134 tanks covering an area of 1,621·52 acres were stocked with 31,03,115 fingerlings of major carps. About 7,600 mds. of fish were netted out.

Export of fish from 14 selected centres of the State : 1,86,059 maunds. Quantity of fish sold to the public : 4,730 mds. valued at Rs. 1,99,743.

Twenty-seven nurseries were acquired and 44 were improved, 17,72,525 fingerlings were distributed to private pisciculturists, Gram Samaj, community projects, extension blocks and other interested parties at subsidised rates. Financial assistance amounting to Rs. 0·70 lakhs was granted to 12 fishermen co-operative societies organised by the departmental staff.

Poultry Development : Number of State Poultry Farms at the close of June 1960, 11 ; Number of Poultry Development Blocks 281 ; Number of Poultry Demonstration Units in Hills 15 ; Number of Poultry Extension Centres 21 ; Number of farms birds issued 35,880 ; Number of farm eggs issued 1,95,964 ; Number of Private Poultry Farms subsidised 3.

Central Dairy Farm, Aligarh :

During the calendar year 1959 a total quantity of 4,48,103 lbs. of milk was collected and sold.

Quantity of dairy products produced : Butter 2,35,118 lbs. ; Ghee 80,976 lbs. ; Cream cheese 7,330 lbs. ; Casein 36,654 lbs. ; Lunch cheese 337·4 lbs. The releases of foodgrains from the Government stocks during the financial year up to Nov. 26, 1960, were : wheat 1,33,947 tons ; rice 63,819 tons and coarse grain 17,784 tons.

During the financial year 1960-61, the State Government obtained from the Government of India 97,126 tons of wheat upto Nov. 26, 1960.

The purchases of rice are being made through the levy system. The purchases of wheat were suspended with effect from August 8, 1960. The total purchases during the financial year upto Nov. 26, 1960, were : wheat 40,947 tons and rice 44,615 tons.

The State was allotted a monthly quota of 25,000 tons of sugar which has now been reduced to 20,000 tons with effect from Nov. 1960. Supplies from sugar mills are lifted by the U.P. Co-operative Federation along with licensed wholesale dealers on ex-factory price fixed by the Government of India.

LAND TENURE

With the vesting of zamindaris, following the enforcement of the U.P. Zamindari and Land Reforms Act, 1950, on July 1, 1952 in 48 out of the State's 51 districts, estates of nearly 20 lakh zamindars were taken over resulting in direct contact with 12,800,000 Kisans. The area of land taken over from intermediaries is about 6 crore acres.

Liquidated zamindars retain such of Sir, Khudkast and groves of which they have become Bhumidhars.

The new land tenures under the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act are : Bhumidhar, Sirdar and Asami.

The main features of the Zamindari Abolition, and Land Reforms Act are : Extinction of intermediaries' rights ; Payment of equitable compensation ; Payment of rehabilitation grant to ex-intermediaries who paid land revenue upto Rs. 10,000 per annum ; Undisturbed possession of land by actual tillers of soil and conferment of greater rights upon them ; Undisturbed possession by every person of his house, well or grove ; No landlord-tenant system to be in force in future i.e. prohibition of sub-letting except in restricted cases of disabled persons ; Prevention of uneconomic holdings ; Village community to own all common lands and to have powers of land management ; The entire body of bhumidars and sirdars to be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of land revenue ; and a provision for co-operative farming.

Every ex-intermediary (ex-zamindar) is entitled to compensation at the rate of eight times his net assets. In addition, every ex-intermediary, whose land revenue did not exceed Rs. 10,000 would be given rehabilitation grant at a graduated specified scale.

Uttar Pradesh denies landlords the right to evict tenants even for self-cultivation of the vacated holdings.

The abolition of zamindaris released 43,969,300 acres, that is, 96·3 per cent of the total land holdings, in the State. Two classes of cultivators, bhumidhars (owners of land) and sirdars (wielders of the plough), enjoy different rights.

Of the alienated lands, nearly nine million acres of waste land were made over to the village communities for management. Another 2,400,000 acres of waste land and private forests were handed over to the Forest Department for development.

The final zamindari abolition compensation payable to ex-intermediaries is assessed at Rs. 68·83 crores. Upto the end of July 1960, compensation to the tune of Rs. 65,24,74,119 had been paid to them of which a sum of Rs.16,20,96,119 was in cash and Rs. 49,03,78,000 in 2½ per cent interest bearing transferable 40 year bonds.

Rehabilitation grants payable to ex-intermediaries have been estimated at about Rs. 70 crores. Upto the end of July 1960, grants totalling about Rs. 41,92,50,000 had been paid in cash and in 25 years non-interest bearing transferable bonds.

The State Government are also paying compensation to former landholders of adhivasis who were declared as sirdars in 1954. Their number is about 40,40,830. The amount of compensation payable to their erstwhile landholders is estimated at about Rs. 13 crores. Till the end of July 1960, compensation on this account amounting to Rs. 5,95,22,645 has been paid to them in cash and Rs. 21,86,900 in bonds.

In future, no more than 12½ acres including the existing holdings can be acquired by a person in his and in the name of his family which includes wife or husband, as the case may be, and minor children. The corresponding limit in the trans-Yamuna portions of the State, the Tarai and Kashipur sub-divisions and certain areas in Mirzapur District has been fixed at 25 acres.

According to official estimates, over 7·5 lakh families in this State are landless. The percentage of landless labourers to tenure holders works out at 16·1 against 51 in Bihar, 54·4 in Rajasthan, 71·4 in Madras and 73·2 in Kerala.

Likewise, the cultivated land available for an average family in Uttar Pradesh is the lowest in India and does not exceed 4·8 acres against 13·1 in north-west India, 11·7 in Central India, 6·3 in Eastern India and 5·7 in south India.

There are only 9,976 holdings, each more than 50 acres and totalling 13,19,515 acres. Excluding about 2,100 mechanised farms from the operation of ceilings proposed by the Planning Commission's directive, only about five lakh acres would be available for distribution among the landless.

Consolidation of holdings : Operations under the scheme are being carried out in 58 tehsils of 35 districts of the State, comprising 22,887 villages having a cultivated area of about 93·35 lakh acres. Till Sept. 30, 1960 the scheme of consolidation had been completed and chaks transferred in 11,012 villages while demarcation of chaks had been made in 11,310 villages. The scheme affected 12,51,357 tenure holders who held 1,12,24,446 plots, which were transformed into 30,29,001 chaks.

Bhoodan: Land gifts amounted to 2,95,431 acres at the end of Sept. 1959 out of which 97,383 acres had been distributed by the Bhoodan Committee.

IRRIGATION

Area irrigated by State Irrigation works (1959-60): 90·8 lakh acres.

Number of tube-wells energised and brought into operation till March 1960: 6,429. Area irrigated by tube-wells 19,71,000 acres; by canals 71,09,000 acres.

Total additional area brought under irrigation from State irrigation works of the first and second plans during 1959-60 was 21·00 lakh acres. Total estimated rise in output was about 5·25 lakh tons.

Names of irrigation projects in execution with the area in acres which will be irrigated, total cost in lakhs of rupees and probable date of completion wherever available, respectively within brackets:

803 miles extension of Sarda Canal (1,76,000; 49·00; 1956-57). 1,062 miles extensions of Sarda Canal (176,000; 137·77; 1956-57); Pratapgarh Branch (extension of Sarda Canal) (59,400; 73·71; 1958-59); Transkalyani Project (Extension of Sarda Canal (47,100; 81·61; 1956-57); Sarda Canal Reservoir in Tarai Forest Stage I including Jaunpur Branch and increasing capacity of Sarda Canal (1,67,400; 479·49; 1959-60); Increasing capacity of Ganga Canal (1,12,320; 15·85; 1957-58); Irrigation schemes in Kumaon (19,800; 54·50; 1960-61); Banganga Canal (22,000; 43·10; 1957-58); Mata Tila Dam Stages I & II (412,500; 1139·00; III Plan); Arjun Dam (26,600; 115·00; 1956-57); Belan and Tons Canal (1,01,500; 241·16; 1958-59); Ahraura Dam (21,930; 59·02; 1956-57); Chandraprabha Dam (35,000; 87·72; 1957-58); Shahaganj Distributary (20,000; 18·69; 1956-57); Tanda Pumped Canal (67,900; 84·49; 1961); Naugarh Dam (86,000; 132·97; 1959-60).

Continuing Schemes: Names of the schemes not mentioned in the above list with the irrigation benefits in thousand acres and probable or actual date of completion respectively within brackets: Dohrighat Pumped Canal (118·80; 1960-61); Remodelling Eastern Yamuna Canal (118·80; 1961); Remodelling of Agra Canal (27·40; 1961); Narayani Gandak Pohkra Canal (50·50; 1960-61); Afzalgarh Canal (10·00; 1957-58); Remodelling Jani Escape (benefits included in increasing capacity of Upper Ganga Canal; 1958-59).

Second Plan schemes with irrigated benefits in thousand acres and probable date of completion within brackets: Ohen Reservoir (15·50; 1960-61); Tumaria Reservoir (40·00; 1960-61); Nanak Sagar (131-72; 1960-61); Upper Khajuri (18·00; 1960-61); Jirgo Reservoir (64·00; 1960-61); Kwano Pumped Canal (21·22, 1960-61).

Drainage and floods: 349 miles of bunds completed, about 4,178 villages raised, 632 miles long drains completed, 60 miles of roads raised, besides protection to a number of towns and wide-scale flood surveys and discharge observations.

Names of certain irrigation systems with the area irrigated in acres by each during 1959-60: Upper Ganga Canal 17,23,150; Lower Ganga Canal 14,81,017; Eastern Yamuna Canal 4,73,351; Agra Canal 3,98,006; Betwa Canal 2,88,623; Ramganga Canal 16,474; State Tube-wells 19,70,988; Banganga Canal 14,568; Sarda Canal 14,81,265; Rohilkhand Canals 52,551; Ghagra Canal 52,551; Ken Canal 2,39,424; Canals in Tarai Division 36,783; Canals in Kumaon Division 22,101; Dhasan Canal 87,732; Belan Canals 64,927; Dohrighat 21,468; Chakia & Chandauli Canal 1,74,669; Lakes and Tanks 38,205; Bundhis 25,656; Rampur Canals 53,433; Dum Canals 27,545.

Total irrigation potential created by Plan projects upto March 1960: 21,00,000 acres; Total area irrigated as a result of this newly created potential upto March 1960: 12,60,000 acres.

Community Projects: The community development programme covers about 62,000 villages with a population of 284 lakhs. This is 52 per cent of the total rural population of the State.

During the year ended March 1960 about 71 pre-extension blocks were opened in two series, 56 blocks entered stage I, 28 blocks (of 1955-56 series whose life in the intensive development phase had been extended by one year for the utilization of unspent balances) entered stage II.

The total number of blocks of various types functioning in March 1960 was 597. Of these 71 were pre-extension 311 stage I, 61 stage II and 54 Intensive development blocks. Till the end of October 1958 there were in the State 370 development blocks covering 46·2 per cent of the total area of the State and 40·4 per cent of the population spread all over its 51 districts. The percentage of the rural population, however, comes to 46·8, with a population of 2,009,024.

(See main article "Community Development Projects".)

POWER

Total installed capacity in State: 359,224 kW. (1959).

Total installed capacity of the Power Stations under the Hydel Unit of U.P. State Electricity Board till March 1960 .. .. 1,89,279 kW.

Total effective capacity of Power Houses under the Hydel Unit of U.P. State Electricity Board .. .. 1,37,859 kW.

Total production including units purchased during the year 1959-60 (Hydel unit, of State Electricity Board U.P.), 59,21,36,000 units.

The Rihand costing Rs. 46 crores (capacity 2,50,000 kW) is to be completed in 1961-62.

Units in KWH sold under different categories during the year 1959-60 in millions (pertains to the Hydel units of State Electricity Board).

Domestic—42·481; Industrial—126·795; Street Lighting—3·358; Agriculture—13·157; State Tube-wells—144·149.

Bulk supply to licensees whose consumption under different categories is not available—46·472; Railways, Cantonments & Pumping—42·880; Free Supplies—19·836.

The following are the names of power houses in operation in March 1960 showing their location and installed capacity in kW within brackets.

Palra Hydro (Bulandshahr: 600); Bhola H. (Meerut: 2,700); Nirgajni H. (Muzaffarnagar: 5,000); Chitaura H. (Muzaffarnagar: 3,000); Salwa H. (Muzaffarnagar: 3,000); Sumera H. LARGE-SCALE INDUSTRIES, MANUFACTURES

Important large-scale industries in the State are Textile (Cotton, Woollen and Jute), Sugar, Power, Alcohol, Glass, Leather and Tanning, Oils, Vanaspati, Rosin and Turpentine, Lantern, Paper and Paper Board, Hosiery, Bobbins, Starch, Agricultural Implements, Catechu, Match, Metal Rolling, Engineering, Cigarettes, Precision instruments and Cement.

The State is not poor in minerals. Limestone, iron and copper ores, glass, sand, mica, gypsum, lead, soapstone, sulphur, fire-clay, magnetite are found in the Himalayan region and elsewhere.

Coalfields exist in the District of Mirzapur in Tehsil Sanghrauli. Gold is found in minute quantities by washing the sands in some of the rivers in the hills. Limestone is found in Mirzapur and stone is largely quarried in the districts of Allahabad, Hamirpur, Banda and Mirzapur. At Churk in Mirzapur District, Government have set up a cement factory with an installed capacity of manufacturing 700 tons of cement per day. An expansion programme to double its capacity is under way. The first kiln was expected to go into production by March 1961. The second was to go into production by July 1961. A firebrick manufacturing plant has also started functioning as a subsidiary unit of the cement factory.

The Government Precision Instrument Factory at Lucknow is engaged in the manufacture of water meters and microscopes of the student and research types.

Kanpur is the chief centre for cotton spinning and weaving mills. According to the latest figures available about 600 persons are employed in registered cotton ginning and baling factories and about 58,000 in spinning and weaving mills.

Agra, the principal centre of shoemaking, is rightly called the Northampton of India and produces shoes worth over a crore of rupees a year. Kanpur is next to it in importance.

There are over 100 tanning centres and three training centres in the State for the development of tanning industry. A research and testing laboratory has been established at Kanpur for the purpose.

The glass industry is an important industry at Bahjoi, Balawali, Sasni, Harangau, Shikohabad, Naini (Allahabad), Ghaziabad and Varanasi. Firozabad is the chief centre for manufacturing glass bangles in India.

A Govt. sand-washing plant is functioning at Shankergarh in Allahabad Dist. for ensuring supply of iron-free silica sand for manufacturing of quality glasswares.

There are about 25 general glass factories in the State. They produce approximately 40,000 tons of goods per year, worth Rs. five crores. These factories manufacture different varieties of glass articles.

At Firozabad in Agra District, there are 88 glass bangle factories manufacturing bangles. These factories produced approximately 16,000 tons of bangles worth Rs. 3·5 crores. In addition to these factories, there are 15 other small factories in different parts of the State making general goods.

There are four factories manufacturing vegetable ghee (Vanaspati) with a capacity of about 150 tons per day. Their total monthly average outturn during 1958 was about 4,390 tons. The oil crushing industry is well developed in the State since U.P. produces about 2¼ crore maunds of oilseeds. There are over 106 big oil mills registered under Factories Act and over 250 small oil mills working with power. About half a dozen oil mills are equipped with refining plant.

There are about a dozen organised soap factories manufacturing superior quality soap on scientific lines by boiled process besides a number of small scale and cottage industry units. During 1958-59 the production of soap by the organised factories and small scale units, was estimated at 4,000 tons and 7,700 tons respectively.

The paints and varnishes industry is located at Kanpur, Meerut, Bareilly and Lucknow. There are over a dozen medium and small scale factories with a total production capacity of 5,500 tons of paints and enamels and 6 lakh gallons of varnishes. These factories produced 2,000 tons of paints and enamels, 350 tons dry colour and pigments and 2,50,000 gallons of varnish during the year 1958-59. Nearly 50 per cent of the total production is exported outside the State.

Tin canisters are made at Agra, Hathras, Etawah, Mainpuri and Ghaziabad.

There are Fruit Preservation and Canning Institutes at Lucknow and Ramgarh, under the Director of Fruit Utilisation with headquarters at Ranikhet. A fruit processing factory has also been established by the State at Ramgarh.

The sports goods industry in the State is mainly concentrated in Meerut. In order to improve the quality of its products, the industry has been brought within the fold of the Quality Marking Scheme.

There are 68 sugar mills in the State. Production of sugar in U.P. totalled 12·20 lakh tons during the season 1959-60.

The Soda Ash-cum-Ammonium Chloride factory, which went into production in 1959, has an annual capacity of 40,000 tons each of the two fertilisers. The factory has been licensed for doubling its production capacity.

The recently commissioned J. K. Rayon plant at Kanpur produces six tons of viscos yarn, 25 tons of sulphuric acid and five tons of bio-sulphide daily.

The Union Govt. has plan to establish a fertilizer factory at Gorakhpur.

(For sugar industry see article "Sugar Industry".)

In the private sector work has started on the aluminium factory at Pipari in Mirzapur and synthetic rubber factory at Bareilly.

A fertilizer factory, an antibiotics factory and a heavy electricals plant have been sanctioned for the State in the public sector.

COTTAGE INDUSTRIES

Main cottage Industries in the State: Textile, leather, brass and copper (utensils), locks, cutlery and building fittings, iron and steel, glass, ceramics and potteries, ghee, oil, soap and gur, wood working, cane and reed furniture and basketry, fibre, essential oils and perfumery, and miscellaneous.

In cottage industries Agra Footwear, Varanasi and Moradabad artistic Brasswares, Varanasi Silk and Brocade, Wooden toy making and glass beed, Saharanpur Wood Carving, Farrukhabad Prints, Lucknow Bidar and Chikan works and Handloom fabrics, Carpet and Shellac industries of Mirzapur, Moradabad horn comb and artistic brassware, Bareilly and Agra durrie making, Meerut, Lucknow and Kanpur musical instruments, Mathura durrie and niwar weaving and calico printing and Pratapgarh Tat-patti are noteworthy.

The German Electroplating Plant has started functioning at Moradabad under foreign experts' guidance.

Cheap credit facilities have been made available for the development of small-scale and cottage industries.

Under the Handloom Development Scheme besides the 162 sales depots and 63 dye houses, as many as 1,177 textile cooperative societies embracing 1,42,164 handlooms out of a total of 2,61,876 registered handlooms, were organized till the end of June 1960. Out of these 429 societies are production-cum-marketing societies. These produced 5,81,23,592 yards of cloth valued at Rs. 5·75 lakhs. A dyeing and finishing factory has also been established at Mau, District Azamgarh. Medium-sized dye houses have also been opened at Meerut and Barabanki.

The handlooms, numbering 2·6 lakhs, directly engage more than 8 lakhs of people to produce annually 300 million yards of cloth. Besides the weavers, there are more than 2 lakhs of other people who earn their livelihood indirectly from this industry.

Annual sales total about Rs. 7 crores through 485 handloom marketing and production societies, 171 co-operative sales depots, 10 government show-rooms, 5 inter-state sales depots, 3 central sales depots, and 5 mobile vans. As many as 66 dye-houses and 2 medium sized dye-houses have been set up in the State for the purpose of fast colour dyeing.

The industry is being strengthened by the setting up of a co-operative spinning mill with 12,000 spindles for providing quality yarn to weavers at Etawah, introduction of powerlooms and establishment of a weavers' colony at Varanasi.

With a view to rendering common facilities of processing scissors and razors, their heat treatment, technical advice and availability of the right type of raw materials, a cutlery has been further expanded at Meerut and Hathras (Aligarh).

A Central Design Centre was established at Lucknow in 1956-57.

The Centre provides for the training of 20 apprentices per year, at a monthly stipend of Rs. 100 each.

For the development of cottage and small scale industries 871 industrial co-operatives have also been organised.

AKHIL BHARAT SARVA SEVA SANGH
Sadhna Kendra Rajghat, Kashi.

The Sangh was founded consequent on a resolution passed at a meeting of the representatives of several constructive work organisations (formerly working under the guidance of Mahatma Gandhi) held on the 13th of March 1948 at Sevagram (Wardha).

The Sangh was originally formed as a federation of these organisations. Later, several of these organisations merged themselves into the Sangh, which has thus become the chief executive organ for constructive work. The objects of the Sangh are as follows :—

"To establish a social order free from all exploitation and based on the principles of Truth and Non-violence, and with this object, to foster village-mindedness in the citizens of India.

The programme includes various constructive work items like communal harmony, Khadi, removal of untouchability, basic education, relief to the poor (by securing employment, living wage, security and unemployment benefit, educational and medical facilities), research in hand spinning and weaving.

The Sangh believes in decentralisation of authority whether economic or political. In the political sphere it has faith in direct democracy which it calls 'Gram Swaraj'. The village is accepted by the Sangh as the basic unit for political organisation and economic self-sufficiency.

At present the Sangh is concentrating on the Bhoodan Yajna, Sarvodaya Patra and Shanti Sena movements started by Acharya Vinoba Bhave, a close associate and disciple of Mahatma Gandhi.

Literature about Bhoodan, Sampattidan and other Dan Yajna movements can be had from Akhil Bharat Sarva Seva Sangh, Publication Division, Rajghat, Kashi (Banaras) ; or Navajeevan Prakashan Mandir, Ahmedabad ; or Sarvodaya Prachuralaya, 24, Srinivaspuram, Tanjore, South India. The Sangh also publishes two weekly papers namely Bhoodan Yajna (Hindi), Bhoodan (English) and one fortnightly paper namely Bhoodan Tahrik (Urdu).

The Sangh has its headquarters at Kashi (U.P.).

The Sangh has a general body consisting at present of 298 members, unanimously elected by Lok-sewaks, of their respective districts. The Executive organ of the Sangh is known as the Prabandh Samiti of 25 members. It has a President, a Secretary, two Joint Secretaries and a Treasurer. The Sangh has a Board of Trustees who hold the property of the Sangh in trust.

Four well-known associations which merged into the Sarva Seva Sangh are : All-India Spinners' Association ; All-India Village Industries Association ; Go-Sewa Sangh and Hindustani-Talimi Sangh.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL MUSEUM
Dampier Park, Mathura.

This Museum was established in 1874.

It has a rich collection of about 10,000 antiquities consisting of stone sculptures, inscription, bas-reliefs, pottery, inscribed bricks, terracottas, clay seals, coins, a few bronze objects and some paintings. It has also a very unique collection from Kushana and Gupta periods. The collection includes a beautiful life size Buddha in red sandstone which is sometimes ranked as world's best life size image of Buddha. Amongst the earliest sculptures the colossal Parkham Yaksha of the Sunga period is noteworthy. The railing pillars, cross bars and coping fragments (with exquisite carvings of the early Mathura School including lovely Yakshis from Bhuteswar and other architectural pieces beautifully embellished with sculptures like torana architraves) are excellent specimens of their type. There are several beautifully carved heads representing princes, noblemen and warriors, some with foreign caps and headgears.

Officer on Special Duty, V. P. Mathur.

SARVODAYA SAMAJ
Sadhna Kendra, Rajghat, Kashi.

The Samaj is not an organization in the accepted sense of the term. After the death of Mahatma Gandhi constructive workers from all over India met in a conference in March 1948 at Sevagram in Wardha. They decided to form a voluntary brotherhood of all who believe in the ideal of truth and non-violence.

The Samaj has, however, an executive organ, the Sarva Seva Sangh with its principal Centre at Kashi, U.P.

Loksevaks of every district form the district Sarvodaya Mandal and elect their representative for the All-India body, who again elect the president for a term of one year. The President nominates his executive, which is called the Prabandh Samiti. All the elections and decisions of the Sangh are unanimous. Apart from the president the Sangh has a Secretary and two Joint Secretaries and a Treasurer. The Sangh has a board of Trustees who hold the property of the Sangh in trust.

Moreover the Sangh has its Khadi Gramodyog Samiti with its headquarters at Kashi to co-ordinate and propagate Khadi and Village Industries throughout the country. Similarly the Krishi Goseva Samiti with its headquarters at Pipri works for the furtherance of agriculture and improvement of the cattle wealth. The Prayog Samiti or the research department has its headquarters at Sabarmati Ashram and works for the constant improvement of the Amber Charka.

The term Sarvodaya thus stands for the good of all, and is the name given collectively to the ideas and teachings of Mahatma Gandhi.

It insists on the purity of the means as that of the ends.

For the achievement of the aim, the following programme is followed :

Communal harmony (fellowship between followers of different faiths and sects) ; Removal of untouchability ; Abolition of class distinctions ; Prohibition ; Promotion of khadi and other home industries ; Village sanitation ; Basic Education ; Equality of status and rights, for both men and women ; Health and hygiene ; Development of provincial languages ; Removal of provincialism ; Propagation of Hindustani as the national language ; Economic equality ; Development of agriculture ; Organization of labour ; Welfare of aboriginals ; Organization of students ; Service of leprosy patients ; Relief-work ; Cow protection ; Naturopathy, etc.

The 30th January of every year when Mahatma Gandhi passed away is observed at all places as Sarvodaya day.

On 12th February every year, fairs are organized at places where Mahatma Gandhi's ashes were immersed.

The deliberations of the Samaj are of an advisory nature and not mandatory in any way.

WEST BENGAL

Area: 33,945 sq. miles; Population: 34·97 million (1961 Census) (Provisional). Percentage of increase 1951-61: 32·94. Density: 1,031. Sex ratio 879 females per 1,000 males. Literacy: 291 per 1,000.

Capital: Calcutta.

There are two Divisions in the State, the Burdwan Division and the Presidency Division.

The Districts in the Burdwan Division with their headquarters in brackets are as follows:

Bankura (Bankura), Birbhum (Suri), Burdwan (Burdwan), Hooghly (Chinsura), Howrah (Howrah), Midnapore (Midnapore), Purulia (Purrlia).

The Districts in the Presidency Division with their headquarters in brackets are as follows:

Calcutta, Cooch-Behar (Cooch-Behar), Darjeeling (Darjeeling), Dinajpur* (Balurghat), Jalpaiguri (Jalpaiguri), Malda (English Bazar), Murshidabad (Berhampur), Nadia (Krishnagar), 24-Parganas (Alipur).

Panchayats: The State Government have already taken steps for partial democratisation at Block level. The Block Advisory Committees have been redesignated as Block Development Committees and have been given more executive and financial powers.

Under the West Bengal Panchayat Act, 1956, Gram Panchayats for every village and Anchal Panchayats for every 10 to 15 Gram Panchayats are being constituted. The Anchal Panchayat is an elected body and is given complete charge of administrative and development work. While it can impose taxes, Gram Panchayat cannot. For every Anchal Panchayat there will be a Nyaya Panchayat also.

The State Government decided on July 11, 1961 to abolish trial by jury in the district courts.

AREA OF DISTRICTS

Bankura 2,647 sq. miles; Birbhum 1,743 sq. miles; Burdwan 2,705; Cooch-Behar 1,324; Darjeeling 1,200; Hooghly 1,208; Howrah 568; Jalpaiguri 2,378·3; Malda 1,392; Midnapore 5,258·1; Murshidabad 2,072·1; Nadia 1,509; 24 Parganas 5,639·9; West Dinajpur 1,384·8; Purulia 2,407.

Names of districts showing within brackets the names of talukas and their area in square miles respectively under each district:

Bankura Dist. (Sadar, 1,933; Vishnupur, 714); Birbhum Dist. (Rampurhat, 606; Sadar, 1,137); Burdwan Dist. (Asansol, 624; Kalna, 385; Katwa, 409; Sadar, 1,287); Calcutta Dist. POPULATION

(See under "Late Particulars").

AGRICULTURE

Acreage and production of principal crops in 1959-60 are as follows:

	Area (acres)	Production (tons)
Rice	10,915,600	4,170,800
Wheat	119,300	31,300
Sugarcane ..	80,600	1,277,900
Jute	823,600	2,169,600†

† Bales.

During 1959-60, 5 (bringing to a total of 99) improved seed multiplication farms were established and 52,816 mds. of improved seeds were distributed. In rural areas 925 demonstration centres were opened. Land covering 1,859·93 acres was reclaimed.

The total provision in the State's Second Plan in respect of agriculture and related subjects was of the order of Rs. 780·27 lakhs.

Under the Greater Calcutta Milk Supply Scheme, milk colony units are being established at Haringhata and Kalyani (five miles away).

Zamindaris and intermediary interests in West Bengal were abolished on April 15, 1956 corresponding to the 1st of Baisakh in the Bengalee Year.

All rent-receiving interests in agricultural lands vest in the State and the numerous tenants and sub-tenants, as the case may be, now hold land directly under the State Government. All forests too are now managed directly by the Government.

Under the Act, each intermediary is permitted to retain in his possession non-agricultural land up to 15 acres, homestead land which together with such non-agricultural land does not exceed 20 acres, agricultural land up to 25 acres, and tanks, fisheries and orchards. Calcutta is a notable exception in the Act.

There are roughly 1·28 million acres of cultivated land in the State, of which, according to preliminary but by no means accurate statistics, only 400,000 acres will be found surplus for redistribution among the tillers of the soil.

Compensation is payable on a slab system at rates varying between 20 times for the first and lowest slab of Rs. 500 of net income and twice for the highest slab of over Rs. 1 lakh.

Where, however, the interest of an intermediary is held under a bona fide trustee or other legal obligation for an exclusively charitable or religious purpose, the compensation payable is being assessed as a perpetual annuity equal to the annual net income of the interest.

Payment is to be made partly in cash and partly in non-negotiable annuity bonds at 3 per cent per annum and payable in 20 equal annual instalments.

Sonarpur-Arapaneh Scheme: The Sonarpur-Arapaneh-Matla Drainage Scheme of reclaiming vast water-logged tracts 105 sq. miles in area, with powerful pumping plants, is the first of its kind in India. Under the first part of the Scheme, a submerged area of 23,360 acres has been reclaimed for cultivation. The total yield of paddy from these large tracts of land was 21,000 maunds.

Bagjola Drainage Scheme: Rs. 104-lakh Bagjola Drainage Scheme is intended to improve the drainage of 116 square miles of area. The scheme when completed will reclaim 25,600 acres of water-logged lands and render them fit for cultivation, which will result in annual additional yield of 12,091 tons of paddy and 1,619 tons of rabi crops.

FORESTS

(See under article on Forests).

IRRIGATION

Area under irrigation (1959-60): over 30 lakhs acres.

In all over 27 lakh acres of land have been benefited since Independence by about 200 irrigation schemes big and small.

Total irrigation potential created upto March 1958: 801,560 acres. Total area irrigated as a result of this newly created potential upto March 1958: 495,947 acres. Percentage of utilisation at the end of March 1958: 62.

The Kangsabati Reservoir Project, included in the Second Five Year Plan, aims at irrigation of eight lakh acres of land in the Purulia, Bankura, Midnapore and Hooghly districts. The foundation stone was laid in January 1959. The Silabati Barrage, one of the features of the project, has been completed.

Some individual schemes are given below:—

	Total cost (Rs. lakhs)	Area in acres benefited (kharif season)
Mayurakshi Reservoir	15,85·00	600,000
Harahatuganj Drainage	12·94	16,000
Beral Canal	21·78	9,000
Jibanti-Banki	3·11	6,400
Jampot	0·52	800
Soadighi Gangakhali	24·08	29,400
Jhargram	7·74	5,000
Suvankar Daura	17·57	6,000
Trans-Damodar	4·27	32,900
Saraswati	6·25	7,100
20 Minor Schemes	6·18	45,292
52 Procurement Bonus Schemes	21·27	87,757
23 Emergency Schemes	10·70	62,880
5 New Minor Schemes	1·96	13,676
Excavation of Nonaganj river	5·14	4,860
Sonarpur-Arapaneh-Matla	126·30	46,400
Bagjola-Ghuni-Jatragachi	104·00	25,600
Improvement of Kamakhya Khal	3·52	3,840

Floods: The worst floods during recent years, hit the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly, Midnapore, Howrah, Nadia, Murshidabad, Bankura, 24-Parganas and Purulia, in September and October 1959. The Government has initiated a scheme of "Build your own House" in the flood affected areas.

The rivers swollen by continuous rains were Damodar, Ganges, Mayurakshi, Rupnarayan and their tributaries. According to official estimates, 517,000 tons of rice were perished, 254,568 houses collapsed and 51 persons lost their lives.

DAMODAR VALLEY CORPORATION

(For details see under "Irrigation")

TWO DEVELOPMENT SCHEMES

The Ganga Barrage Scheme: Investigations in connection with the Ganga Barrage, also called Farakka Barrage Scheme, are now in an advanced stage. The current estimates of the cost of the project is Rs. 56 crores.

Benefits expected from the barrage: 1. Supply of water to resuscitate the moribund rivers in West Bengal and also improve the Sunderbans rivers ; 2. Provision for irrigation and flushing on a vast scale ; 3. Improvement of the Calcutta Port ; 4. Provision of a direct railway and road link between the northern and southern parts of the State ; 5. Provision of an inland water route entirely through the Indian Union starting from Calcutta and going up to Bihar and Uttar Pradesh and ultimately to Assam.

* Also called West Dinajpur.

Reclamation of Salt Lakes : The scheme for the reclamation of the swampy northern and southern salt lakes covering about 33 square miles on the eastern fringes of Calcutta aims at liquidating the scourge of malaria and at reclaiming the water-logged areas, partly for the extension of the City and partly for agricultural purposes.

POWER

Position 1958-59 :

No. of stations 50 ; installed capacity 603,747 kW ; energy generated 1,917·902 mln. kWh ; energy sold 2,115·285 mln. kWh.

The following power schemes included in the Second Plan are being executed by the West Bengal State Electricity Board.

Extension of Mayurakshi Hydro-Electric Scheme. Four places in Birbhum district will be electrified. Five-year cost : Rs. 9·99 lakhs.

Rural Electrification Scheme : Electrification of 62 villages at a total cost of Rs. 94·39 lakhs. Four hundred and fifty miles of 11 kV O-H line and 70 miles of low voltage distribution line would be laid.

Extension of North Calcutta Electrification Scheme : Stringing of the second circuit of 27 miles of the existing 66 kV double circuit tower line between Shamnagar and Ranaghat. Districts to be benefited : Nadia, Murshidabad and 24 Parganas. Estimated capital expenditure for the Plan period : Rs. 6·08 lakhs.

Jaldhaka Hydro-Electric Scheme : Tapping of river Jaldhaka in north Bengal to generate electricity. Generating capacity : 2–10 Mw ets. Provision for the scheme : Rs. 194·01 lakhs.

Balasun Hydro-Electric Scheme : Harnessing of river Balasun in Darjeeling District. Estimated expenditure : Rs. 158·53 lakhs. Scheme is kept in abeyance.

Kharagpur Midnapore Electrification Scheme: Purchase of power in bulk from D.V.C.'s Kharagpur sub-station and distribution in Midnapore district through a network of transmission lines. Length of overhead lines to be laid : 114 miles of 11 kV and 33 kV. Capital expenditure: Rs. 45·34 lakhs.

Howrah-Hooghly Rural Electrification Scheme : Length of overhead transmission lines to be laid : About 80 miles of 11 kV. Estimated cost : Rs. 25·89 lakhs.

Durgapur-Malda Transmission Scheme—Places to be supplied with power : Districts of Murshidabad, Malda and West Dinajpur. Provision during the 2nd Plan period : Rs. 34·86 lakhs.

Suburban-Electrification Scheme : Electrification of a few suburban areas on the outskirts of the licensed area of Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd. Total Plan provision for colliery electrification, tube-well irrigation, Central testing laboratory and suburban electrification schemes : Rs. 29·21 lakhs.

INDUSTRY

Principal industries of the State : Jute, tea, coal, cotton, textiles, paper, rubber, engineering, etc.

No. of registered factories : 4,159 (March 31, 1959). No. of workers : 750,000.

No. of jute mills : 89 in 1959 (employing 230,000 workers, 1959).

Total acreage under jute cultivation in West Bengal : 876,000.

No. of cotton mills : 40* (43,281 workers ; total no. of spindles 6,41,620 ; no. of looms 10,949 ; approximate quantity of cotton consumed 2,24,340 bales of 3½ cwts. each bale). (31st August 1960).

The Kalyani Spinning Mills, one of the major industrial ventures of the West Bengal Government is nearing completion.

The Company has an authorised capital of Rs. 250 lakhs, with the West Bengal Government taking up shares valued at Rs. 140 lakhs. The balance of shares will be raised mostly from semi-Government institutions.

Glass : Hindusthan Pilkington Factory at Asansol.

No. of tea gardens : 285 (245,000 workers). West Bengal produces about 90 million pounds of tea.

No. of coal mines : 220 (about 99,000 workers daily on an average). The total output of the West Bengal coal mines is about 14 million tons.

West Bengal's tea gardens are mostly in the Dooars, Terai and Darjeeling districts.

No. of paper mills : 5 (about 10,000 workers).

Jute, cotton and most of the other industries are located in the Greater Calcutta industrial area.

Main small scale industries : Handloom weaving, sericulture and silk, brass and bell metal, hand-made paper, palm gur and mat industries.

No. of looms engaged in handloom weaving : 1,50,000.

Principal centres of handloom weaving : Santipur (Nadia), Santiniketan (Birbhum), Rajbalhat, Dhaniakhali (Hooghly).

Principal silk industry Districts : Malda, Murshidabad and Birbhum.

Steel : Production target of steel at Indian Iron and Steel Works, Burnpore, one million ton, and at Durgapur in the public sector two million tons.

Ahmedpur Sugar Mills in the public sector at Ahmedpur, Birbhum, have gone into production.

LABOUR

No. of registered factories : 4,159. (July 31, 1959).

No. of workers : 750,000.

No. of registered trade unions : 2,040 (1959).

No. of members of trade unions : 838,032.

Eighteen Minimum Wages Advisory Committees have been appointed. Minimum Wage Committees were appointed for revision and fixation of wages for workers in unorganised industries, such as flour mills, oil mills, rice mills, public motor transport, tea plantations, etc. Tribunals for fixation of minimum wages were set up also in jute, textiles and engineering industries.

The Employees' State Insurance Act, which provides for sickness and other medical benefits, covers 280,000 workers in Calcutta and Howrah areas.

The Employees' Provident Funds Act covers 530,000 workers including workers in tea plantations.

No. of labour welfare centres : 46.

No. of tenements completed under the Subsidised Industrial Housing Scheme : 1,468 and 1,170 (Private Sector).

The Labour Department of the State took over the administration of the Employment Exchanges in West Bengal towards the end of 1956 from the Central Government.

CO-OPERATION

From 1948 to 1959 the number of co-operative societies increased from 12,946 to 19,029. The membership increased from 635,000 to 1,402,000.

ROADS

There are six national highways in West Bengal : Calcutta-Delhi (152 miles), Calcutta-Bombay/Madras (90 miles—common alignment in West Bengal), Bihar-Assam (181 miles), Siliguri-Gangtok (35 miles), Calcutta-Siliguri (203·5 miles) and Calcutta-Bongaon (43 miles).

The Second Five Year Plan envisaged construction and improvement of 2,200 miles of new State roads in addition to the spill-over from the First Plan.

The State spent Rs. 20·22 crores during the First Plan period, while the ceiling of expenditure for the Second Five Year Plan had been limited to less than Rs. 17·50 crores. In the first two years of the Second Plan, a sum of Rs. 590 lakhs was spent on road development.

With a view to the gradual nationalisation of road transport services, a number of bus routes in the City of Calcutta have already been taken over by the Government and other routes would be taken over under a phased programme.

The State Transport owns (1960) a fleet of 677 vehicles. The Calcutta State Transport Corporation, an autonomous body, has been formed to look after the State transport system in Calcutta.

The State Transport provides employment for 7,400 persons of whom about 60 per cent are displaced persons.

About 9,00,000 passengers are carried every day. The State buses cover about 53,000 route-miles daily.

Total mileage run by the State Transport in 1959-60 : 23,633,000.

No. of passengers carried : 283,900,000.

Total earnings : Rs. 270·58 lakhs.

The State Transport has a Central Workshop which employs about 700 persons. During 1959-60, 839 vehicles were repaired and rebuilt, 158 new bodies were built, 553 bodies were repaired and rebuilt, 516 fuel pumps were re-conditioned and 7,576 tyres were resoled and repaired.

Gross revenue of the State Transport Undertaking in 1960-61 : Rs. 397·50 lakhs. Budget estimates show a surplus of Rs. 6·16 lakh.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS

The Community Development Projects now cover about half the population. The object of the programme is the development of rural township with a group of 100 villages in a block taken up for intensive development programme.

REFUGEES AND REHABILITATION

(See main article on Refugees and Rehabilitation).

THIRD FIVE-YEAR PLAN

The estimated cost to finance the States development projects during the Third Plan has been placed at Rs. 341 crores by the National Development Council.

The estimated contribution of West Bengal in the early stage was Rs. 90 crores from the States resources and Rs. 160 crores from the Centre, i.e. Rs. 250 crores in all leaving a gap of Rs. 91 crores between the plan project and estimated resources.

The Council decided that the ceiling fixed could be raised to the extent that the State itself raised more resources. It may be possible to find additional resources amounting to Rs. 43 crores so that the total resources would amount to Rs. 293 crores leaving a gap of Rs. 48 crores. It was suggested, therefore, that the West Bengal Government might keep Rs. 341 crores as the physical target, the amount of expenditure which will actually be made would naturally depend on the resources available to the State.

Physical Targets.	(Rs. crores)
Agriculture and Minor Irrigation ..	81·45
Community Development & Co-operation.	25·42
Major & Medium Irrigation and Power.	57·86
Industry and Minerals.	13·14
Transport & Communication. ..	26·50
Education, Health and Social Services	94·38
Special projects including Salt Lake Reclamation and development of Durgapur industrial projects. ..	42·28
	Rs. 341 crores

PONDICHERRY STATE

Area: 186 sq. miles; Pop. 3·85 lakhs (Projected population as on March 1, 1960).

Capital: Pondicherry.

Chief Commissioner: S. K. Datta, I.C.S.

The State of Pondicherry consists of:

(1) On the Coromandel Coast: (a) Pondicherry, the capital, together with the adjoining territory, divided into 8 communes, (b) Karikal and the dependent districts divided into 6 communes;

(2) On the coast of Andhra: Yanam, with the dependent villages all forming one commune;

(3) On the Malabar Coast: Mahé with the adjoining territory forming a single commune.

De facto transfer of these former French possessions to India took place on November 1, 1954 following an agreement between the Government of India and the Government of France. The instrument of transfer was signed in Pondicherry on November 1, 1954 by Mr. Kewal Singh on behalf of India and Mr. Pierre Landy representing France.

A treaty for the de jure transfer to India of the French establishments was signed on 28th May, 1956 by Mr. Nehru, as Minister for External Affairs and the French Ambassador in India Count Ostrorog. The treaty is awaiting ratification by the French Assembly.

The first general elections after the de facto transfer were held in July 1955 on the basis of universal adult franchise for the 39 seats in the State Representative Assembly and 200 in the 16 Municipal Councils. On an average, more than 85 per cent of the voters voted.

The second general elections took place on August 10, 1959.

The Municipal Administration in the State is carried on by the Municipal Councils, one in each of the sixteen communes.

The State is directly administered by the Government of India on the pattern of a Union Territory, through a Chief Commissioner appointed by them and an advisory body called "the Conseil du Gouvernement" consisting of six elected Councillors. The Chief Commissioner is assisted in the day-to-day administration of the State by a Chief Secretary, five Secretaries and the Inspector-General of Police.

Chandernagore in West Bengal was the first French India possession to become de jure a part of the Indian Union after the treaty for its cession was signed in Paris in 1951 by the representatives of the two Governments. The Treaty was ratified by the French Assembly on April 11, 1952.

PONDICHERRY

Area: 112 sq. miles (Survey of India); Population: 2·70 lakhs (as on March 1, 1960).

Pondicherry is the chief of the former French settlements in India and its capital is the seat of the Government. The town is an enclave in the district of South Arcot in Madras State, about 89 miles from Madras.

There is no harbour, but a new pier is under construction at a cost of about Rs. 38 lakhs, the old steel pier having corroded and given way due to the 1952 cyclone. Ships lie at a distance from the shore and contact with land is maintained by means of the usual masula boats peculiar to this part of South India.

Since November 1, 1954 sea customs have been introduced in Pondicherry and a new department has been created under a Collector of Customs, assisted by a Superintendent of Excise.

KARIKAL

Area: 62 sq. miles (Survey of India); Population: 86,000 (as on March 1,1960).

Karikal is an enclave in the Tanjore District, and consists of a single tract of territory stretching along the east coast between Tranquebar and Nagore. It is at a distance of 90 miles from Pondicherry. It covers an area of 62 sq. miles and is divided into 6 communes containing 110 villages. The establishment has a population of 70,541, according to the 1948 census. Karikal is the terminus of a line from Peralam on the Tanjore District Railway.

YANAM

Area: 8 sq. miles (Survey of India); Population: 7,000 (as on March 1, 1960).

The town is situated in the delta of the Godavari covering an area of 8 square miles and is an enclave of the District of East Godavari in Andhra State. The soil is fertile.

MAHE

Area: 4 sq. miles (Survey of India); Population: 22,000 (as on March 1, 1960).

The territory of Mahé on the west coast consists of the town of Mahé on the left bank of the river of the same name; and the isolated district of Naluthara on the right bank containing the 4 villages of Chambara, Chalakara, Palour and Pandaquel. It is an enclave in the District of Cannanore in Kerala State.

Pepper, coconuts and betelnuts are the major crops.

INDIAN TERRITORY UNDER PORTUGUESE OCCUPATION

Area: 1,537 sq. miles; Pop.: 637,591 (1950 Census); Capital: Cidade de Goa (Panjim).

The Hindu population is estimated at 388,488 (60·9 per cent) and the Christian at 234,275 (36·8 per cent). There are 14,162 (2·2 per cent) Muslims and 666 (0·1 per cent) Europeans and Eurasians.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICIALS

Governor-General, Brigadier Vassalo e Silva, who is also Commander-in-Chief.

Military Commander, Brigadier Martins Loeitao.

Elected Members of the Governor's Council (Conselho do Governo), Miss Georgina Figueiredo, Bonifacio Miranda, Amadeu Prazeres da Costa, Prisonio Furtado, Rev. Father Castilho Noronha and P. Quenin.

The last two have been appointed Deputies in the Portuguese National Assembly of Lisbon. They represent Portuguese India.

Governor of Diu, Capt. Vasconcellos.

H. E. the Patriarch of East Indies, D. Jose Alvernaz.

Indian territory under Portuguese rule is made up of: Goa, Daman, Diu.

All the three territories are situated practically within the area covered by Maharashtra and Gujarat States. Goa is on the Konkan Coast; Daman lies on the Gujarat coast at the entrance to the Gulf of Cambay; and Diu is a tiny islet and along with the isolated spots, Gogola and Simbor lies on the southern fringe of the Kathiawad peninsula.

There are about 3,100 Indian nationals living in Goa (Dec. 1960).

The enclaves of Dadra and Nagar Haveli, which formed part of Daman, have been taken over by Goan nationalists who have set up their own administration.

Mr. K. G. Badlani, a senior I.A.S. officer, is now Administrator of these areas. He will be responsible to the Panchayat.

GOVERNMENT

The Governor-General is the head of the administration and is stationed in the capital Cidade de Goa formerly known as Nova-Goa and also Panjim.

Associated in the task of government is the Conselho do Governo possessing restricted legislative and advisory powers. The Governor-General is its ex-officio President.

Daman and Diu have each a District Governor.

The advent of Dr. Oliveira Salazar to power and the establishment of his Estado Novo led to increasing centralization in the administration of Portuguese India. All measures of importance are now initiated by and carry the sanction of the home government in Lisbon. The Governor's Council, Conselho do Governo which assists him, is shorn of what little legislative powers it formerly possessed. There are no elected municipalities and local boards in the villages. Each municipality is in charge of an administrative committee nominated by the Governor-General, who also appoints the presidents of all charitable and cultural associations in the country.

A stringent censorship controls the freedom of the press.

Freedom of association is likewise controlled.

COMMERCE AND INDUSTRIES

The chief agricultural products of Goa are rice, coconuts, cashew-nuts, betel-nuts, mangoes, and sugar-cane. Of these cashew-nuts, betel-nuts, coconuts and mangoes which were exported in considerable quantities to the Indian Union, have been banned by the Government of India. The rice grown is not sufficient for local consumption and lasts for only six months in a year. For the remaining six months rice is imported from Pakistan, Mozambique (Portuguese East Africa) and Burma. Other exports include copra, bamboos, salt, salt-fish and manganese and iron ore, the exports of which have enabled the Goa Government to earn foreign exchange, specially in dollars, enough to finance all its imports. The imports consist of rice, machinery, textiles and other manufactured goods.

The currency in Goa is now the 'escudo' which was introduced from January 1, 1959. Formerly it was the Portuguese "rupia" but now it has been changed to suit Portugal.

According to the new regulations in force one Portuguese "rupia" is worth six escudos. The Indian rupee is at a discount and 70 Portuguese "rupias" are equal to 100 Indian rupees. This is done unofficially by traders and exchange dealers.

There are no banks operating in Portuguese territory with the exception of the Banco Nacional Ultramarino which has offices in the major towns. No Indian bank can open branches in Goa as the Banco Nacional has a monopoly. The Indian Government in its turn compelled the Portuguese Bank to close its branch in Bombay because Indian banks were not allowed to do business in Goa.

The Life Insurance Corporation of India has opened a branch at Panjim. It receives premiums of those insured in Goa and pays out matured policies of those who have insured in Goa.

A railway line maintained and run by the Western India Portuguese Guaranteed Railway, once a subsidiary of the former Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway, joins the port of Mormugao with the junction of Londa on the Southern Railway. It fulfilled a very important role by providing an outlet to the sea for the products of this part of the Mahratta country.

The Southern Railway which administered the railways in Goa on behalf of the W.I.P.R. did not renew the contract at the end of Dec. 1955 with the result that Goa has now no rail link with India. But shuttle services inside Goa were maintained by Goan authorities with the help of Western India Railway (registered in London), whose contract was to end in December 1960.

The air service between Goa, Daman and Diu has been resumed after making adjustments in the route.

There is a bi-weekly air service between Marmugao and Karachi.

Mormugao, which is the chief port, is also geographically one of the major ports on the west coast of India and is open to ocean-going vessels of every size from all parts of the world. But, as we have mentioned, there is neither trade nor communication between India and the Portuguese-held territory. But ships from Japan, America and Europe call at Mormugao to take cargo of iron ore and manganese, which are the chief exports of Goa.

There is now no restriction in the matter of travel between India and Goa for Goan citizens. A traveller can take Rs. 50 into Goa or bring Rs. 50 with him. But restriction on trade continues. Indians have to take a visa from the Brazilian Embassy in Delhi for travel to Goa.

Restrictions on Goan citizens about travel between India and Goa were removed on April 3, 1958. Since then Goan emigrants in the Indian Union have been travelling to Goa via Majali, the Indian frontier, 10 miles from Karwar. Two additional routes have been opened, one at Lakhrkot (Vengurla) and the other at Anmode (two miles from Castle Rock). But the Portuguese Government have refused to co-operate with the Indian Government; so at present only the Majali route is operating.

The boycott of ships calling at Goa and other Portuguese settlements in India by the All-India Port and Dock Workers' Federation, which was temporarily lifted, was re-imposed in May 1960.

DAMAN

Daman in Gujarat has a total area of about 33 square miles and a population of some 21,000 inhabitants, mostly of Gujarati extraction.

There are some very interesting historical relics here such as the old fort and a few surviving churches reminiscent of the old times.

DIU

About 150 miles to the north-west of Daman lies the tiny islet of Diu off the southern coast of Kathiawad. It is a small town separated from the mainland by a narrow arm of the sea. Dependent on it and surrounded by the territory of Junagadh is the enclave of Gogola and also the island and fort of Pani Cota in the bay of Simbor.

Diu is reached from Bombay by the Western Railway via Viramgam and Delwada. Access by sea is easier and more rapid but there is no harbour. There is an excellent roadstead where ships can safely anchor in two fathoms of water.

Area: 413 sq. miles. The population is estimated at 19,731.

PRO-MERGER MOVEMENT

With the merger of French territory in India, the pro-merger movement in the Portuguese pockets was intensified by the people of Goa, Daman and Diu. The Portuguese Government adopted severe repressive measures to put down this agitation with the result that over 300 Goan Satyagrahis were arrested and put in Goa jails.

It is now reckoned that there is only one Indian prisoner in Goa jails.

The Goa Action Committee, which is composed of all Goan parties in Bombay, appointed an administrator, Dr. Antonio Furtado, to administer the liberated areas of Nagar Haveli and Dadra. The present administrator is Mr. K. G. Badlani, I.A.S. These enclaves are situated near Daman.

A Rs. 85-lakh development plan has been prepared for the 191-square-mile enclave of Nagar Haveli. Among the construction activities included in the plan are three bridges over the two rivers, costing Rs. 10 lakhs, 75 miles of roads, schools and village water system.

Handmade paper industry, catechu (Ratla used in pan) manufacture, tanneries and tile and brick factories, a public library and a maternity home have also been constructed. Over 3,000 students now attend schools, on which the administration spends about Rs. 88,000. Spinning and carpentry are taught in the schools.

A model cottage hospital, a veterinary dispensary and four dispensaries have started functioning.

In December 1956 Portugal filed a claim before the World Court at The Hague to a right of passage for both armed forces and officials from Daman on the west coast, which she still governs, to the two Portuguese enclaves. Portugal lost control of the 41,000 people of these two enclaves after a rising in 1954.

India contested the jurisdiction of the World Court.

The World Court, giving judgment in April 1960, ruled that India, in 1954, had not acted contrary to her obligations resulting from Portugal's right of passage over Indian territory between Portuguese enclaves. It ruled that Portugal did not have a right of passage for armed forces, armed police and arms and ammunition, but it gave Portugal the right of passage to her enclaves in India for private persons only.

The World Court also rejected the claim of Portugal that there was a historical transfer of sovereignty by the Marathas to the Portuguese.

The first elected Administrative-cum-Legislative Council of Dadra and Nagar Haveli unanimously voted on June 13, 1961, for merger with the Indian Union. The Government appointed Administrator told the Council that he had been authorised by the Government of India to inform it that it accepted the request for merger and that it would be administered Centrally. A Bill for merger of these areas was introduced in the Lok Sabha in August 1961. The Bill has already received the President's assent.
